GREAT EXCITEMENT AT VICTOR

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CRIPPLE CREEK, COL., June 9.—At 1 o'clock this morning a crowd of 1,500 non-union miners and members of the Citizens' alliance entered the office of the Victor Daily Record, a local paper that has campioned the cause of union labor, and demolished two linotype machines, threw several job presses into the street, ruining the large cylinder press, tore up the office books and ordered the proprietor and the force of printers, reporters and pressmen to leave town before daylight and never return on pain of death.

Victor, Col., June 8.—Nearly 200 of the soldiers and deputies under Adjt.-Gen. Sherman Bell fought for an hour this afternoon with 65 miners who were secreted behind rocks and trees in the hills surrounding the new mining camp at Dunnville, just over the county line in Fremont county.

John Carley, a member of Miners' union No. 40, residing at Cripple Creek, was instantly killed. That a great majority of the party under Gen. Bell was not slaughtered is a miracle.

The party left its train and walked through a narrow canon into the open gulch where the town of Dunnville is located, and was subjected to hail of bullets from the rocks high above. Probably 2,000 shots were fired and only one man was killed. He was in the timber and was slain by a steel bullet from the Krag-Jorgensen rifle of a man in the firing squad of Sergeant Baldwin. The dirt and rocks around the feet of the invaders and newspaper men who accompanied them was spitted up as if a heavy hailstorm was in progress but not a man was touched.

Twenty Men Captured.

Twenty of the men in the hills were captured. The majority of them were unarmed when they surrendered. Some of them had ammunition on their persons and some confessed, when rounded up below, that they had hidden their arms. Such men were marched back to the hills and their arms captured. Five revolvers, two double-barrelled shotguns, a single barrelled shotgun and two rifles were taken by Gen. Bell's men.

The first rain of lead exchanged lasted for seven minutes by the watch, and then the firing was desultory for an hour. Carley was killed about 300 yards from the men who were firing at him and no weapons were found near his body. It was a battle which brought out the best mettle in every man who went from Victor and was a "business affair" from the first shot from the rocks until the last one caused a miner to throw up his hands and surrender.

Within two minutes from the time the first shot was fired, bullets were coming down on the exposed men from four different hilltops. But they peppered the rocks above so fast and so fearlessly that the ambuscaders began to bob up as they ran over the cliffs and hilltops, shooting back and fleeing for dear life. One man fell behind some rocks high up in the north cliffs, but no dead body could be found and it is presumed that he got away.

A Second Battle.

Another battle, a skirmish as compared to the one at Dunnville, occurred on Bull Hill late this afternoon, between 15 deputies and five soldiers, and seven miners, who were in the brush on the south side of Bull Hill. The miners got away with a running fight. No one was wounded, though probably 50 shots were fired in this engagement.

But since the battle of Dunnville, Victor is at a pitch of excitement reached at no other time in the history of Cripple Creek troubles. Women ran about in the rain tonight and inquired the details of the battle; men hurried here and there telling the experiences and predicting dire things one way or another.

Gen. Bell will not call out more troops. The theory advanced is that the small number in the district at present can cope with the small parties of miners who are armed and well scattered.

The fate of the imprisoned union miners in the gold camp rest in the hands of a military commission of seven men: Mayor F. D. French of Victor, Nelson Franklin, J. B. Cunningham, F. M. Reardon, Judge H. McGarry, D. E. Copeland and T. J. Daltzell.

Work Begun at Once.

Under the reign of martial law these men were this morning appointed by Adjt.-Gen. Bell to investigate the records of the miners. They took testimony all day and will render a report at an early hour Thursday morning, or later in the day. The report will be made to Gen. Bell, or, in his absence, to Col. Verdeckberg. It will recommend as to the disposition of the prisoners, based on the evidence given. At the same time Gen. Bell appointed Maj. Thomas E. McClelland provost marshal for the district and he at once began making arrests, incarcerating some 30 or more and generally directing affairs of the city.

Victor found itself again under martial law when it awoke this morning. Gen. Bell took active charge and ruled with a firm hand. Indecision gave way to action. Within an hour the special commission to investigate the prisoners was fully constituted and at work. Provost Marshal McClelland was ordering arrests

FIERCE FIGHT ALONE CERTAIN

Outcome of the Struggle at Port Arthur Unknown.

RUMORS ARE MANY

Japanese Declared to Have Lost Four Ships at Sea and Many Men on Land.

ALSO CLAIM RUSSIAN DEFEAT

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

London, June 8.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from St. Petersburg transmits the following from Liao-Yang:

"The Japanese, June 6, according to Chinese reports, made several sustained and stubborn attacks on Port Arthur simultaneously by land and sea. They were repulsed with severe loss. The position of the Japanese in Kwan-Tung is said to be precarious.

"There are rumors from the same sources that the Vladivostok squadron has effected a junction with the Port Arthur fleet and that the Japanese lost four large ships.

"According to information at Mukden a Japanese squadron of nine vessels has been bombarding the coast between Siung-Yu-Cheng (Hiung-Yo-tcheng) and Kaichau (Kai-Ping), on the west coast of the Liao-Tung peninsula, just below Niuchwang, since June 7."

Tremendous Fighting Indicated.

CHEFOO, June 9.—(Special.)—All the news reaching here today indicates that tremendous fighting is going on at the very outskirts of Port Arthur and the indications all point to the fact that the final assault has begun, if, indeed, the flag of Japan does not now float over the Gibraltar of the east, as some of the reports declare.

The Chinese, both merchants and coolies, are leaving Port Arthur with the permission of the Russian authorities. Fifty junks which left Port Arthur yesterday with Chinese passengers are now arriving here. The reports of the latest arrivals agree in a general statement that a battle has been raging four days within 10 miles of Port Arthur. All the Russian soldiers have left Port Arthur for the front, and only three large ships and a number of small ones remain in the harbor. All the outer forts at Port Arthur have been more or less damaged by recent bombardments. Mines recently laid in the entrance to the harbor were exploded during a thunderstorm. Many buildings in the town have been destroyed.

An Opposite Report.

Reports of the operations on the Kwan-Tung peninsula are necessarily fragmentary and they are not always reliable. It seems certain, however, that the Japanese have been able, despite desperate resistance on the part of the Russians, to push their lines steadily in towards the doomed fortress; that the hardest kind of fighting has been going on for two or three days; that the Japanese have taken position after position and in every case have been ready to fortify every point of vantage occupied and to mount heavy guns to assist in the assault on the next forward position.

All sorts of stories come as to the losses, but none of them can be relied upon. One report declares the Japanese have lost 11,000 men in killed and wounded since the attack on Nanshan hill. All reports agree that the Japanese guns are handled superbly and that the Shimose shells are so effective that it is next to impossible for the Russians to withstand their deadly work.

Contradictory reports reach here of the work at sea. One report which receives considerable credit declares that a desperate sortie was attempted last night by the Russian squadron, but the Japanese were ready for them and, after a battle lasting more than an hour, the Russians were driven back with the loss of two or three ships and injury to several others.

Sea Battle Certain.

Officers of vessels arriving here which passed outside the Japanese blockading line are unanimous in declaring that there has been sea fighting, but they have not been able to get close enough to enable them to tell what vessels were engaged or what damage, if any, has been done.

MASKED MEN ROB AT PISTOL POINT

Enter Home of a Camp Hill Woman and Cut Away $500 Sewn in Her Skirt.

ROBBERS FIVE IN NUMBER

Mrs. Anna Gloskoski of Camp Hill, near Carnegie, was awakened early yesterday morning by feeling a tug at her skirt, and, opening her eyes, beheld a man cutting into her garment and in the act of removing $500 which she had sewed therein. Her cries awoke her son John, aged 23, who had been sleeping in the next room, and both succeeded in shoving the man out of the room. Hearing the scuffle, four men rushed into the room with drawn revolvers, threatening both with death if the money was not turned over. All the robbers were masked.

While four covered mother and son with their weapons the first man continued the work of cutting the garment open and removed the money, whereupon all backed from the room and escaped.

As the cottage is in a lonely spot, and fearing a threat made that the first to follow would be shot, the woman and her son did not venture from the house until yesterday afternoon, when they notified the Carnegie police. Chief of Police George Foster arrested Frank Sanlis and Stanley Salonski shortly after on suspicion. Sanlis had boarded with Mrs. Gloskoski, and she stated that he was the only one, outside of the family, who knew that she had such an amount of money on her person. Salonski, who lives near Walkers Mills, claimed that Sanlis had come to his house late Tuesday night and that he, with other friends of Salonski, sat in the house until 2 o'clock Wednesday morning carousing with two kegs of beer and a considerable quantity of whiskey.

Mrs. Gloskoski had not come to Carnegie at a late hour last night to identify the two prisoners and they are being held to await her arrival.

LAWRENCE C. PHIPPS GETS CUSTODY OF HIS CHILDREN

Wins Complete Victory in Court at Denver, Which Includes Injunction Against Stock Dividends Being Paid to His Wife.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

DENVER, June 8.—Judge P. I. Palmer of the district court has issued an order giving the absolute care and custody of the Phipps children to their father, Lawrence C. Phipps, until further notice. The same jurist has signed writs of injunction not only preventing the United States Steel Corporation, the United States Trust Company and J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. from paying further dividends to Mrs. Phipps, but ordering them not to allow a transfer of any of the Phipps securities in their possession.

Mrs. Phipps has been receiving large dividends from the corporations named, and the injunction of Judge Palmer not only stops these companies from paying her any more, but also blocks any transfer of paper that may have been in contemplation. In other words, Mrs. Phipps finds herself cut off from practically all revenue, to say nothing of the loss of the children.

Mrs. Phipps has engaged Judge Platt Rogers of Denver as her counsel in the divorce proceedings. It is announced that "if the divorce suit ever comes to trial," the doors will be thrown wide open to the public during the hearing and there will be no effort at suppression of evidence. A lis pendens has been filed with the county recorder, which states that although the title to the Phipps mansion in Denver is in Mrs. Phipps' name, it is really the property of her husband, who now claims absolute ownership.

NEW YORK, June 8.—(Special.)—Mrs. Phipps' friends in this city do not believe, they say, that Mr. Phipps has begun an action for divorce. J. Campbell Thompson and James M. Beck, who are looking after Mrs. Phipps' interests, both asserted today that no divorce proceedings had been begun in Denver.

Platt Rogers of Denver was engaged by telegraph to represent Mrs. Phipps. More than a year ago, when Mrs. Phipps was in a hospital, he was her representative, and it was by advice of Mr. Rogers that Mrs. Phipps returned to live under her husband's roof.

PENNYPACKER IS UNDECIDED

WILL VISIT HIS HOME TODAY

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Harrisburg, Pa., June 8.

Gov. Pennypacker and Attorney General Carson, after the departure of Senator Penrose and Insurance Commissioner Durham for Philadelphia today, held several conferences at the executive department on the senatorial situation, but they apparently arrived at no conclusion.

It was said at both the executive and attorney general's departments that no action had been agreed upon, and that those most directly interested were still looking up the law and groping for light. The governor will return to Pennypackers Mills tomorrow morning to remain until Friday night, when he will go to Pittsburgh to attend the dedication of the monument to the late Col. Hawkins of the Tenth Pennsylvania regiment.

If any agreement was reached at the conference at the executive mansion last night there were no signs of it today. The conference adjourned at 3 o'clock this morning, and it developed today that after midnight Secretary Fuller, Senator Woods of Westmoreland and William B. Meetch of Dauphin, a member of the state executive committee, looked in and participated. It is said that Mr. Woods urged the appointment of Francis L. Robbins of Pittsburgh, with no apparent effect.

When Gov. Pennypacker was asked at the executive mansion today whether the conclusion he referred to last night had been arrived at, he said it had not, and he had nothing new to communicate. "I am still hunting information to guide me in my course," said the governor.

Attorney General Carson also said that no new feature of the case had resulted from the conference, and he, too, was getting at the situation from a legal viewpoint.

Some still hold that the governor will cut the knot by appointing Richard R. Quay to succeed his father and then call an extra session of the legislature to meet in December. The governor declined to answer when asked if such would be his action.

ROLL OF CONTESTS NOW MADE COMPLETE

THINK P. C. KNOX WOULD ACCEPT

Friends of the Attorney General Hopeful That He Will Succeed Quay.

POSITION OF ORGANIZATION

Over a week ago close friends of Attorney General P. C. Knox were informed that he would not allow the use of his name as a successor of Senator Quay under the conditions then existing. Yesterday there was reason for believing that he had changed his mind and it was thought quite probable that he would agree to enter the senate if the opportunity offered.

In the picking of possible winners of the toga the name of Mr. Knox was frequently mentioned yesterday. Later it was learned that he was being considered by the state leaders. When Commissioner Durham returned from the west he said that it was doubtful if the president would be willing to have Mr. Knox leave his cabinet.

It is generally understood that if the man comes from Allegheny county he will have to be acceptable to the local Republican organization.

Flinn's Friends Hopeful.

The friends of Senator Flinn were hopeful yesterday that he would be selected by the leaders. Until late last night those who patiently waited for news had not received any definite information from Philadelphia. The senator is said to have telegraphed a lieutenant during the evening that there had been no change in the situation.

By close associates of Richard R. Quay it was asserted that he would receive the appointment at the hands of Gov. Pennypacker. It is understood that the local organization will favor his selection for the short term. There were some who inclined to the belief that he might in the end be agreed upon for the full term. This opinion prevailed prior to the appearance of Mr. Knox as a real candidate for the office.

Supporters of Francis L. Robbins thought that the news from Philadelphia indicated that he was in the lead.

Early in the evening Allegheny politicians were excited by rumors that Francis J. Torrance had been agreed upon as the wearer of the toga. At his home it was announced that Mr. Torrance had gone out of the city. Later it was learned that he had gone to Polk on business. Thomas S. Bigelow was also missing last evening and it was reported that he had been called to Philadelphia to confer with John Elkin.

Heiner Goes to Philadelphia.

D. B. Heiner, collector of internal revenue, went to Philadelphia on the 10 o'clock train. He was accompanied by Maj. Joseph G. Beale of Leechburg. Mr. Heiner said that they were going east to learn what was doing in the senatorial matter.

Senator Muehlbronner is of the opinion that Senator Flinn stands well in the race for senator. The Allegheny man has just returned from Philadelphia, where he took part in the conference with the state leaders. He is positive that the office will come to this county. He says that he has reliable information that the senatorship will not go to Elkin.

County Recorder O'Neil, who had been in Philadelphia in the interest of Elkin, is home and brought little information with him. It is his opinion that Penrose will pick the senator and that Durham will acquiesce in the selection. He remarked that the only place he did not hear Elkin boomed was in the office of Penrose.

FRICK BACKS KNOX TO WIN

Openly Declares That He Will Work Hard for Attorney General.

THINKS HIM IDEAL

FLINN IN CLASS OF HIS OWN

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 8.

Powerful interests are urging the election of Attorney General P. C. Knox for the senatorial vacancy. Unless he is opposed by Senator William Flinn and the Republican organization of Allegheny county, it seems certain that Knox will leave the cabinet and succeed Senator M. S. Quay. Mr. Flinn will announce his decision at noon tomorrow.

Developments of yesterday compelled the leaders to rearrange their plans. This morning surface indications pointed in the direction of either Flinn or Robbins. Elkin is entirely out and is not being consulted in the final disposition of the matter. This fact Elkin confirmed tonight when he said he had not talked with either Penrose or Durham today. It was a day of conferences. Everyone nearly participated in one of the many caucuses and Elkin's failure to be present clearly shows that his advice is not being asked.

Henry Clay Frick is the most potential exponent of the Knox boom on the ground. Mr. Frick arrived from New York this afternoon. He and Cameron are the guests tonight of President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Frick Favors Knox.

At 8 o'clock this evening Mr. Frick came to the Hotel Walton. He sent his card to Senator Flinn's room. While awaiting an answer, Mr. Frick was interviewed by The Gazette correspondent. Late afternoon rumors from both Flinn and Elkin people had been to the effect that Knox was a favorite.

"You have heard of the Knox boom?" I asked Mr. Frick.

"Yes, I have," he replied, smilingly.

"What do you think of it?"

"I think Mr. Knox an ideal man for senator."

"Will you use your influence for him?"

"When I am supporting a man I would naturally use my influence in his behalf. Yes, I will heartily use my influence to further Mr. Knox's chances."

"It is reported that you, ex-Senator Don Cameron, A. J. Cassatt, R. R. Quay, Penrose and Durham, and others who do things, have decided that Mr. Knox is the most available man; that he has been agreed upon, and that announcement of his selection will be made tomorrow."

Some Pregnant Answers.

"I hope your story is true," was Mr. Frick's reply.

"Have you seen Mr. Cameron?"

"I saw him yesterday in New York, and we did discuss Mr. Knox's availability."

"Is Cameron for Knox?"

"I do not think he will oppose him," with another smile which robbed the reply of uncertainty.

"Will Knox leave the cabinet?"

"Why shouldn't he?"

"Then he will accept the senatorship?"

"I cannot speak for him, but it is my opinion that he will accept. Pennsylvania favors a man of Knox's type. His magnificent intellect and general equipment makes his selection most desirable."

"Do you think there will be a positive declaration of Knox's selection tonight?"

"I do not know, but hardly expect it."

Flinn "Only Eligible."

Senator Flinn entered the lobby at this juncture, and Mr. Frick and he held a short conversation, after which Flinn went to Senator Penrose's home in Spruce street and Mr. Frick went to the Cassatt residence.

It was 10:30 o'clock when Flinn returned to the hotel. His statement was brief:

"I saw Mr. Frick only for a moment. He asked me to support Attorney General Knox. I told him I could not give him any answer tonight; that I have an engagement to meet Penrose and Durham at noon tomorrow. Until I talk again with them I will make no decision. There are others who must be consulted before this question is disposed of. The people of Allegheny county have a right to be heard, and they will be given an opportunity."

"It is reported, senator, that the list of eligibles acceptable to the Allegheny county organization has been increased by a few names. Who are the eligibles?"

"I am the only 'eligible.' The others are merely being considered. Leslie can give you the names."

More Names Proposed.

This, however, Mr. Leslie declined to do. But from another source, equally reliable, I learned that the names of Supreme Court Justice W. P. Potter and William McConway have been added to the list. Potter's selection would create a supreme court vacancy, and there is talk that it might be tendered Gov. Pennypacker. But this is only conjecture.

Gen. Elkin was given a chance to express an opinion on the Knox boom. He refused. His friends say he has not agreed to Knox or to any of the other names said to be under consideration. I am not possessed of information indicating that Elkin has been asked to indorse any of the candidates. This may account for his taciturnity.

Strong pressure was brought to bear in Senator Flinn's interest today. He looked like a winner at one time, and he is by no means out of the race yet. Allegheny will undoubtedly furnish the senator, and if the honor does not go to Flinn it must go to a man acceptable to him. The support of his home delegation is really desirable to the most practical of politicians. Knox, personally, can deliver no votes from his home

MAYOR HAYS IS BADLY BEATEN

Select Council Ignores His Request and Grants Firemen Vacations.

BITTER FIGHT WAGED

Message from the Chief Executive and Director Moore Is Turned Down.

THREATENS TO VETO MEASURE

Mayor Hays and Director Moore met with a crushing defeat in a contest in select council yesterday afternoon. Against the opposition of the mayor and the director of public safety, select council adopted a resolution granting employes of the fire bureau a two-weeks' vacation with pay. Mayor Hays and Director Moore sent a special message to select council, asking that body to refer the resolution to the finance committee, although it had been adopted by common council on Tuesday night by a unanimous vote.

The upper branch ignored the request of the mayor and his cabinet officer and voted down every motion proposed by the friends of the chief executive and the director of public safety. For an hour and a half the matter was debated and three times the chair was overruled by the members on appeals from his decisions. Political significance was attached to the resolution because it discriminates against many employes of the fire bureau appointed under the present administration.

Mayor Threatens to Veto.

The resolution contains a provision that only employes having been in the service one year or more shall receive a vacation. An amendment to give vacations to all firemen who have been in the service six months was voted down.

Mayor Hays declares he will veto the resolution, but the friends of the firemen say they have enough votes to pass the resolution over the mayor's veto.

"I will certainly veto the resolution unless money is provided to pay the substitutes who must take the places of the firemen during their vacations," said Mayor Hays when he heard of the action of select council.

Upperman, Wainwright and President Wightman were the chief supporters of the administration. Every parliamentary tactic was resorted to to defeat the resolution, but the other side had two votes to one for the administration. The resolution was messaged from common council. With it was read a communication signed by Mayor Hays, Director Moore and Fire Chief Humphreys. The communication stated there were two ways by which the firemen could be given a vacation—one by employing substitutes, which would require an expense of $20,000 more, and no provision had been made in the fire bureau's appropriation for this purpose.

Mayor Asked for Delay.

The other way was by not employing substitutes; but this method, the mayor and his director alleged, would compel the fire companies to run short-handed and would cripple the service. The letter further stated that the firemen had called upon the director and Fire Chief Humphreys and had been told to wait until information could be obtained as to what other cities were doing in this respect.

Select council was asked to refer the resolution to the finance committee until this information could be obtained and until some way could be devised of giving the men vacations without running the bureau short-handed or without creating a deficiency in the appropriation.

West moved that the resolution be referred to the finance committee. Upperman said the money should be provided before the resolution was passed. A. H. Leslie, formerly director of public safety, said the granting of vacations would not cripple the service. He declared there was not half a dozen fire companies in the city not running short of men at present, and that last year Director Moore had saved $60,000 by not employing the full quota. He said that one or two men could be dispensed with by each company for a couple of months without harm to the service.

Moore Before Council.

P. J. Barry asked that Director Moore be sent for, and after a long wait the director arrived. He was plied with questions. Moore admitted that the bureau was being run short of men, but said it might be possible to run the bureau short-handed during the summer months would be at some risk. He said, however, cause a deficiency in the appropriation to employ substitutes. He was asked if the resolution were passed if he would put more men on the payroll during the summer, and he said he would consult the city solicitor about that.

The director also admitted that $60,000 had been saved last year by not employing the full quota of firemen. Select councils had given $25,000 more to the fire bureau than the finance committee had allowed in making up the appropriation for the year.

Armstrong asked the director if at the end of the year, there would be a deficiency in the appropriation a transfer could be made from some other fund. The director replied in the affirmative.

President Wightman

The debate was [illegible] he was opposed to [illegible] excluded all men [illegible] one year. the chair. The vote on this appeal was the first test of strength. Wightman's decision was reversed by the body by a vote of 21 to 10. On the question of sustaining the chair the members voted as follows:

Ayes—P. J. Barry, Booth, Costello, Fichtel, Hermes, Lang, W. H. McKelvy, Upperman, Wainwright, West—10.

Another Appeal from Chair.

Upperman made the point of order that a suspension of the rules was necessary to pass the ordinance, because it had not been referred to a committee. Wightman again ruled in favor of Upperman and another appeal was taken. By a vote of 20 to 8 the members refused to sustain the chair.

Upperman made a third point, that the resolution had not been printed, and, therefore, could not be considered by council. Wightman, for the third time, ruled in favor of Upperman, an appeal was taken and council voted against the chair.

On the resolution appointing the city depositories, Dr. Burns had made the point of order that the bank resolution had not been printed, as required by law, and Wightman had ruled the point out of order. His ruling on exactly the same point in regard to the firemen's resolution was a reversal of his other decision.

By a vote of 18 to 13 select council refused to refer the resolution to the finance committee, as requested by the mayor and Moore. Wainwright moved to lay the resolution on the table, and this was defeated. West offered an amendment to grant vacations to all men who had been employed six months, and this motion was laid on the table by a large majority. Armstrong renewed his original motion to concur in the action of common council, and the resolution was finally passed by a vote of 22 to 5. The vote was as follows:

Noes—P. J. Barry, Kearns, Upperman, West, Wightman—5.

Bank Resolution Is Passed.

The resolution appointing the city depositories was passed by a vote of 23 to 7. The members voted as follows:

Ayes—John Barry, P. J. Barry, Booth, Casserly, Cavett, Costello, Edwards, Fredericks, Friedman, Gallagher, Hermes, Howarth, Kearns, Lang, William McKelvey, Manion, Thomas O'Brien, Schneider, Upperman, Wainwright, Walters, West, Zollinger—23.

Noes—Atkinson, Burns, Fichtel, Leslie, W. H. McKelvy, Schempp, Wightman—77.

Owing to the long fight over the firemen's resolution, select council did not reach the new business from common council, except the bank and firemen's resolutions. Sixty-five bills, including the ordinances for the Schenley park oval and the artesian wells, were delayed until the next meeting.

An ordinance was introduced further amending the ordinance authorizing the bond issue of $1,122,278 for the payment of judgments, assessments and claims against the city. The bonds have already been awarded to a New York firm which was the highest bidder, but this firm has asked for additional amendments of a technical nature. One provides a more specific statement regarding the city's liability for the continued payment of interest if it shall be unable to redeem the bonds at the time named. Another amendment specifies what shall be printed on the bonds.

DISAGREE ON NOMINEES.

Teter and Dawson Factions Differ—John W. Mason Is Renamed for Judge.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., June 8.—(Special.)—The Teter and Dawson factions of the Republican party cannot agree on the nominees for the legislature, selected at yesterday's primary election. The county is allowed three delegates. Frank Moats, speaker of the last house of delegates and manager of Teter's campaign for governor, was defeated by 320 votes by B. S. Pope. But Moats got more votes than I. S. McPherson, a Dawsonite, who got the highest number of votes of all the candidates from the southern part of the county, and claims the nomination. J. W. Owens, a Teterite was nominated from the northern part of the county. Both Moats and McPherson will demand that their names go on the docket.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., June 8.—(Special.)—The Republican judicial convention for the Eleventh district, today renominated Judge John W. Mason, by acclamation. Under the redistricting of the state by the last legislature this district will in the future be composed of Monongalia and Marion counties. It is probable that the Democrats will indorse the Republican nominee, Frank Cox, of this place, candidate for nomination to the supreme court of appeals, who was indorsed by the convention.

MOROCCO'S SULTAN YIELDS TO BANDIT

Will Comply With Demands to Insure Release of American Captive.

MARINES LANDED AT TANGIER

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The sultan of Morocco has yielded to the demands of Raisuli, the bandit, for the release of the American captive, Perdicaris, and his English companion. The information reached the navy department late this afternoon through Admiral Chadwick, in command of the American naval vessels at Tangier. It is unofficially stated that the state department had not received confirmation of it from any of its agents. Admiral Chadwick cabled that the information came from the British consul at Fez.

Admiral Chadwick surprised the state and navy department officials today by announcing that marines had been landed, at the request of the Belgian minister, to guard the Belgium legation at Tangier. This information came in a lengthy cablegram. The fact that troops had been landed was alone made public. No attempt was made by the department officials to say why this action had been taken. It is possible that the legation is on the outskirts of Tangier and open to attack from bandits.

Ion Perdicaris is ill and in urgent need of a physician. Admiral Chadwick informed the navy department today that the answer of the bandit chief as to whether or not he would give safe conduct to a surgeon to Perdicaris, would be received tomorrow. The department today made public this statement:

"Admiral Chadwick reports that he has been informed the American captive is in need of medical assistance. The consul general at Tangier (Mr. Gummere) has sent to Raisuli to inquire whether a surgeon will be given safe conduct. If so one will be sent in company with the sherif of Wazan. Raisuli's reply is expected June 9."

FIERCE FIGHT ALONE SURE AT PORT ARTHUR

Transmission.)—The Japanese have evacuated this position near Wafangow. The neighboring mountains are deserted and the recently constructed entrenchments empty. Japanese mounted scouts even are no longer seen and the Russian patrols have failed to locate any Japanese as far as Nafang-Kau. The railway is only slightly damaged and can be repaired in a few hours.

A severe fight may be expected at Kinchau, where the Japanese are concentrating in the positions captured from the Russians. Japanese north of Pulandien are apparently retiring on that place. The Japanese have not effected a landing at Kinchau. Their fleet of 25 transports loaded with war material and provisions which was lying off Kinchau has disappeared. Stores for the Japanese army are reaching Kinchau from all directions.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 8.—The reports of sorties from and attacks on Port Arthur coming in from foreign sources arouse the liveliest interest here. The government, not having means of communicating with the fortress, accepts them with reserve. The authorities generally believe that the reported march of events in the front of Port Arthur is a little too rapid.

The tension over the situation at the theater of war is manifestly increasing. The general staff is becoming more reluctant and the public is convinced that an important battle which may decide the fate of the campaign is impending. The outpost engagements between the main armies of Gens. Kuropatkin and Kuroki have suddenly ceased. Such a lull frequently occurs after two armies have been for some time in touch and just before they are ready to strike.

The admiralty is convinced that either the battleship Yashima or the Shikshima has been lost off Tsien-Wan. This belief is based on Chinese reports, which have heretofore proved reliable.

The emperor, in discussing the war situation at Tsarskoe-Selo with a prominent diplomatist, although expressing complete confidence in the ultimate outcome of the war, displayed considerable concern over the fate of Port Arthur, against which he said he believed the enemy was directing his principal energies. His majesty told the visitor that the report that there was not enough coal at Port Arthur for the squadron had not a vestige of foundation, and the emperor also said that from the reports he had received he was satisfied the Japanese had already lost three battleships.

One of the most prominent officials of the war office told the correspondent of the Associated Press this afternoon that important news from the front was expected within three days.

News from Port Arthur, the Liao-Tung peninsula and the Yalu river is cut off from Russian sources by the Japanese, who are between the Russians and the territory mentioned. It is officially asserted that the cables connecting Japan with China are not working, which would prevent Tokyo from having knowledge of events in that section of Manchuria. The interruption of the cable work, however, is more likely to be "official" and due to a censorship at Tokyo.

SELECTED TO SECOND ROOSEVELT'S NOMINATION

WASHINGTON, June 8.—It was officially announced today that the following persons have been selected to make the speeches seconding the nomination of President Roosevelt at Chicago: Senator Beveridge, Indiana; George A. Knight, California; Harry Stillwell Edwards, Georgia; Joseph B. Cotton, Minnesota; Harry S. Cummins, Maryland.

SWEDISH CHURCH FORBIDS MARRIAGE TO DIVORCEES

ROCKFORD, ILL., June 8.—Ministers of the Swedish Free Church of America, in conference here today, voted to unite in marriage to no divorced persons hereafter.

United in Favor of Huff.

GREENSBURG, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—The candidacy of Congressman George F. Huff of Greensburg, as Quay's successor, has received the indorsement of the legislative delegation of the Twenty-second congressional district. James H. Gallagher, chairman of the Westmoreland county Republican committee, issued a statement today in which it is stated that while Col. Huff is in no sense an avowed candidate, his friends in his home district of Westmoreland and Butler counties insist that he shall be. Mr. Gallagher has conferred with the assemblymen-elect of both counties and says they are united in support of his candidacy.

county unless indorsed by the county and city organization. This, under certain circumstances, might not be absolutely necessary, but it is considered essential.

Robbins Had Long Wait.

Francis L. Robbins left this evening for New York. He will return tomorrow. Mr. Robbins arrived this morning, saw Penrose for a moment and was told that he would be sent for later in the day. Patiently until evening Robbins waited at his hotel, but the message did not come. He will be given a chance to state his case tomorrow afternoon. But Robbins does not appear to be in the contest. Unless another dark horse is sprung the honor will probably go to either Knox or Flinn.

Congressman Joseph C. Sibley is now on the water and is scheduled to reach New York Saturday. He will be in time for the inquest. But it may be reopened if new evidence is secured.

It is reported that a conference of much bearing was held yesterday in New York. Frick, Cameron, Cassatt, Quay and others representing large interests were present. They had been informed that what had appeared to be a "closed incident" had been reopened and Knox was catapulted into the breach. Penrose and Durham were informed of the conclusions reached. And then every one got busy.

Many Conferences.

Penrose and Durham arrived at Broad street station at noon. They went at once to President Cassatt's office. Cameron and Quay were there. Mr. Knox was discussed. Prior to this meeting Mr. Robbins visited Mr. Cassatt.

At 2 o'clock Senator Flinn, Chairman Ford and Leslie called on Penrose by appointment. Durham was present. The state leaders were told that Senator Flinn was the choice of the Republican organization of Allegheny. The adjoining counties, it was explained, also favored him.

Secondly, it was asked that if there were any valid or prohibitive objections to Flinn's candidacy, from the standpoint of the state organization, that the man chosen should be one acceptable to Flinn and the organization.

Flinn, Leslie and Ford were asked to return tomorrow. Mr. Durham said he wanted to go to Atlantic City and he did not care to work further on the matter today. While these negotiations were pending, John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, was escorted to Penrose's private office. When Mitchell came out he said:

Mitchell Not In Politics.

"My visit had nothing to do with the senatorial matter. The subject was not broached while I was there. I called for the purpose of enlisting support for certain legislation asked by the miners. The child labor and the check weighman bills were discussed in particular."

"It is reported you came here in the interest of Robbins."

"That is not true. I have always kept my skirts clear of politics and the present instance will be no exception."

"How do you account for the coincidence of you both being here on this particular day?"

"I saw Robbins the other day in Pittsburgh. He said he would be here today, and I apprised him of my intention of coming."

"Personally, what is the attitude of organized labor so far as Robbins is concerned?"

"Since contracts were first entered into between organized labor and its employers, such contracts have been made with Mr. Robbins. There have been differences, but they were always amicably settled."

With this hypothetical indorsement of Robbins Mr. Mitchell rested his case.

Rumors About Knox.

Upon Mr. Mitchell's departure, Penrose and Durham again went to Mr. Cassatt's office. "Dick" Quay was also present, but no information was to be had as to others there. Vague rumor had Mr. Knox in the conference, but this could not be confirmed.

It was reported in Washington that Knox is supposed to be at his Valley Forge farm, an estate contiguous to the country home of Mr. Cassatt. If Mr. Knox was not at Broad street today it is not improbable that he made a social call tonight on his neighbor. He would certainly receive the "glad hand" from Cameron. Frick and the other guests of Mr. Cassatt.

Chairman Ford and Leslie tonight insist that the vacancy has not been filled so far as final selection goes. They are very hopeful that Flinn may yet be accepted by the state leaders. That Allegheny county will furnish the man they are certain, also that he will be a man who will be agreeable to the Republicans of Allegheny.

The conference between Gov. Pennypacker and Senator Penrose and Insurance Commissioner Durham regarding the filling of the vacancy in the United States senate was entirely satisfactory to Penrose and Durham.

May Call New Legislature.

There is reason to believe that Gov. Pennypacker will not call an extra session of the present legislature, although he may call the legislature which is to be elected in November before the regular times for meeting, the first Tuesday of January.

Penrose and Durham have assurances that Gov. Pennypacker will recognize Senator Penrose as the leader of the Republican organization of Pennsylvania, just as he did the late Senator Quay, and that he will regard his recommendations on political questions accordingly. In matters of general legislation he will continue to exercise his own judgment, and he has so informed both Penrose and Durham.

In the filling of the senatorial vacancy, Gov. Pennypacker will appoint the candidate recommended to him by Senator Penrose, unless he shall be such a man as the governor indicated he could not consistently name. That the governor will make an apointment to fill the vacancy pending action by the legislature, can be taken for granted.

While neither Penrose nor Durham would discuss in detail what transpired at the executive mansion, there is reason to believe that the above statements are correct, and that Penrose and Durham left the governor pleased with their reception and with the policy which the governor has decided upon.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

ETZEL IS BURIED NEAR NIUCHWANG

Chinese General Tu Acknowledges That His Soldiers Did the Killing.

INQUEST WAS HELD YESTERDAY

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

NIUCHWANG, June 8.—Louis Etzel, the correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph, who was killed by Chinese soldiers disguised as pirates, was buried here this afternoon.

The inquest into the death of Etzel was held at Shwantaitze yesterday by United States Consul General Miller, to whom Gen. Lu, the Chinese commander, acknowledged that Etzel was killed by his soldiers.

Ernest Brindle of the London Daily Mail, who was with Etzel when he was shot, testified that their junk was unchallenged by the soldiers and was fired upon in spite of the fact that the two foreigners were plainly visible at a distance of less than 100 yards. At least 150 shots were fired at the correspondent junk, which did not reply.

Consul General Miller will forward his report to United States Minister Conger at Pekin, showing gross carelessness upon the part of the soldiers. Gen. Kondratovitch placed a steam launch with 25 soldiers under the orders of Consul General Miller and otherwise rendered great aid in recovering the body of Etzel. Consul General Miller has replied to Gen. Kondratovitch, thanking him heartily for his kindness on behalf of the United States government.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(Special.)—Mr. Conger, United States minister at Pekin, today confirmed the press reports of the death of Louis Etzel, correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph, who was shot by Chinese soldiers. A cablegram from Mr. Conger said that Mr. Miller, the consul general at Niuchwang, was engaged in an investigation of the affair.

So far as the state department has learned, Mr. Etzel never relinquished his nationality, although he had been little in this country during recent years. The state department anxiously awaits a detailed report from Mr. Miller, and steps will be taken to call the persons implicated in the murder to account for their action. Mr. Miller is thought to have made such representations to the officials of the district in which Etzel met his death.

From the acting governor of Colorado, and Miss Anna Etzel, of Denver, the state department today received telegrams, asking that Mr. Etzel's body be brought to the United States. Secretary Hay directed that Mr. Miller be informed that this was the desire of the relatives. There is, however, no fund which the state department can expend for the purpose.

MINERS AT BAY GIVE BATTLE; ONE KILLED

and putting more activity into the hunt for union miners than has yet been seen.

The military and mine operators are working as one man to a common end. They have but one plan and do not attempt to conceal it. It is to wipe the Western Federation of Miners out of the district. The final disposition of the big crowd of prisoners was a puzzle to those in charge until the appointment of a commission. This body will determine the matter finally. The commission sat in the rear room of the mine operators' headquarters in Third avenue and heard in secret the testimony of nearly a hundred men. One by one the miners were marched from the bull pen to the rooms of the commission, each prisoner being under heavy guard. Soldiers stood at every door and the entire proceedings were secret.

"The committee is merely to investigate," said Col. Verdeckberg tonight. "Its report will in no sense be final. It will determine as far as possible who is innocent and who is guilty. Some men will be discharged."

"Does that mean that the discharged men will be set free and all allowed to remain in Victor?" he was asked.

"I cannot say," replied the colonel.

It is very generally believed that the commission's work will result in the separation of the prisoners into two classes. Those to be freed and those who are charged with crimes of pernicious activity of some sort.

The fate of the latter will still remain unsettled, while the former will very probably be deported and warned not to return.

A small sensation was created late this evening when it became known that Chris. Miller, a union leader and member of the Gold Field city council, had been captured at Canon City, Col. Verdeckburg at once requested the sheriff of Fremont county to return Miller to Victor and the prisoner will be brought here in the morning. Miller is charged with having purposely fired the shot that started the riot at Victor mass meeting on Monday. It is hinted that he may be unceremoniously dealt with if those not under the military get hold of him.

At a late hour tonight Brig. Gen. H. A. Naylor was still lacking. With a small party of soldiers he left early in the morning for Straub mountain to arrest a miner named Fridley, who, it is claimed, fired the shot that killed Roxie McCabe in Victor on Monday afternoon.

Fridley and several comrades are said to be well armed and in hiding in the mountains. Lieutenant Harley Keegan was appointed night marshal of Victor today.

FEELING RUNS HIGH IN CRIPPLE CREEK

Determined Men Are Muttering at Metropolis of Troubled District.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CRIPPLE CREEK, COL., June 8.—Feeling is running high here and becoming more intensified. That was determined, or was evident, today when the funeral of Henry Hang, one of the explosion victims, took place, shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon. The Elks had charge of the funeral. The deceased was an extremely popular fellow and when the cortege bearing his remains passed up the street on the way to the Shore there were many remarks. The sight of the funeral cortege set many determined men to talking.

There is an undercurrent apparent tonight, but what it augurs cannot be told. Lynching has been freely predicted, but cooler heads have prevailed and have kept such extreme measures from being carried into execution. The fact that there has not been a lynching bee before is the surprising thing, so wrought up are the people of the district over the crime of Monday.

The peace committee today made a demand upon District Attorney Henry Trowbridge that he remove his deputy, J. C. Cole, and then a request was made that S. D. Crump, the attorney of the mine owners, be appointed to fill the vacancy. So far no reply has been received from Mr. Trowbridge.

The establishment of a bull pen in this city has been one of the features of the day. Already over 50 are incarcerated. The mining exchange, at Second and Bennett avenues, is being used. Families and wives of the prisoners kept arriving all forenoon in an endeavor to see and have a talk with the husbands and fathers incarcerated. In some instances permission was granted, but in most cases denied. Tearful women carrying children inquired if their relatives were among those imprisoned. Some mistakes were made in arresting innocent parties, and as soon as it was shown that the prisoner was not an offender he was immediately released.

BEAVERS IS ARRESTED ON A SECOND CHARGE

Former Postal Official Is Required to Furnish $10,000 Additional.

NEW YORK, June 8.—George W. Beavers, the former chief of the division of salaries and allowances of the post-office department, was arrested upon a warrant issued by United States Commissioner Benedict in Brooklyn today.

He appeared with his counsel before Judge Thomas of the United States circuit court in that borough on a motion to quash an indictment charging him with complicity in the postal frauds, and on a second motion to compel a bill of particulars. The indictment charged Beavers with accepting a bribe in connection with the installation of cash registers in the postal service. He is under $10,000 bail.

The argument on Beavers' motions was put over until Monday, and Commissioner Benedict gave him until Monday to furnish $10,000 additional bail on the new charge. The warrant was issued as a result of a Washington indictment, charging Beavers with receiving $25 per machine for promoting the use of book typewriters in the postoffice department. The prosecution will demand Beavers' removal to Washington for trial.

TO SAVE BABIES.

Clergymen Planning to Suppy Infants of Poor With Pure Milk.

Members of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Sterilized Milk and Ice association have begun work in the campaign to save lives among infants, who during the summer months are so susceptible to disease by impurities in milk. The Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young, the Rt. Rev. Cortlandt Whitehead and Dr. J. Leonard Levy called upon business men yesterday morning to solicit aid in the establishment of a sterilizing plant which is approximated to cost $6,000.

The organization had headquarters in room 503 Bijou building. It is planned to open distributing agencies in both cities where sterilized milk is to be sold at the nominal price of one cent a quart. It is stated that 38 per cent of the infants who die in summer are stricken for lack of proper milk to keep them healthy.

EXPRESS HELD UP, BUT SMALL BOOTY SECURED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

DENVER, June 8.—Denver & Rio Grande passenger train No. 5, westbound from Denver, was held up last night by five masked men three miles west of Parachute, a small fruit station midway between Grand Junction and Glenwood Springs.

One sealed safe containing specie was taken from the express safe, which was dynamited. Sheriff W. G. Struthers and Deputy Sheriff D. M. Hardy of Grand Junction are now on the trail of the robbers with a posse of farmers and ranchers quickly summoned from the vicinity of Grand Junction. Sheriff Frank Adams and another posse from Glenwood Springs are also scouring the surrounding country.

When the train reached a point three miles west of Parachute two masked men crawled over the tender of the engine. They placed pistols at the heads of Engineer Allison and his fireman and made them stop the train. Three men who were waiting on the tender then jumped down and uncoupled the express and baggage cars. These cars, with the engine, were run two miles further west.

When the point selected for the dynamiting of the express car was reached Messenger D. M. Shea refused to open the car and piled baggage up in front of the door. The robbers with a stick of dynamite blew away the side door of the car and half a dozen trunks were demolished.

The great iron combination safe was the only one in the car. A stick of dynamite was then placed against the lock. At this point Brakeman Shellenbarger, who had been ordered to remain with the passenger coaches two miles behind, came running up with a lantern. One of the robbers shot him in the leg. He is now in a hospital at Grand Junction.

When the robbers saw that the train crew was coming they fled to the mountains. One of them, as he jumped from the express car, grabbed one sealed bag which had been blown clear out of the safe. This was the only plunder which was taken.

STOLE MONEY TO PURCHASE TITLES

Bank Directors Lavished Money on Charitable Projects of Empress of Germany.

NOW ON TRIAL IN BERLIN

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, June 8.—The painful impression made by the scandalous failure of the Pommeranian Mortgage bank was heightened by the knowledge that the empress' charitable undertakings were partly financed through that institution. At the trial of the bank's directors, which began today, Privy Councillor Budde, manager of the Berlin Hypotheken bank which succeeded the Pommeranian, testified that the accused bank officers, Schultz and Romeick, during 1900 drew $172,000 from the Pommeranian bank, of which $112,500 was placed at the disposition of Baron Von Mirbach's charitable account.

Privy Councillor Budde said that he had been unable to trace $25,000 of the remainder. He testified unwillingly, he said, as to this phase of the bank's affairs, but his oath sompelled him to say that Schultz and Romeick lavished the bank's money on charitable objects in order to procure titles and decorations for themselves, although they knew the extremely precarious condition of the bank. Schultz had deceived Baron Von Mirbach into the belief that the contributions came from him personally. The large outlays were designed to procure favor at court and in other influential circles.

Councillor Budde said he had consulted Minister of Agriculture Von Podbielski as to the possibility of getting some of the money donated to the city back, but he had been informed that it had all been expended and that he had no legal right to sue for repayment.

WOMAN FOUND GUILTY.

Double Tragedy Was Work of Kate Craft, According to Verdict.

The coroner's jury found Mrs. Emma Schrieber, alias Kate Craft, guilty of suicide and the murder of Irwin Wise. The verdict was returned yesterday after all testimony had been taken. The murder took place in Mary's court Alleghany, on the morning of May 31. The verdict was based on the testimony of Dr. H. A. Briney, who held the autopsies, and several who assisted in the work. Dr. Briney said:

"I cannot tell whether the man or the woman shot first, but from the nature of the wounds, I believe the woman shot the man and then herself. The bullet which killed Wise went straight through the body. The bullet that killed the woman entered at an angle, which is usually the way with self-inflicted wounds."

Previous to the hearing in the Wise-Craft case there was an inquest into the death of Michael Yorki, who died May 16, at the West Penn hospital from wounds received May 11 at Bridgeville. The jury reported that Yorki was murdered by some person or persons with a piece of airbrake hose and car coupling which was found after the murder by Ira J. Wyte and exhibited at the trial.

DEDICATED NEW HALL.

Series of Recitals by Some Well-Known Musicians Has Started.

Before an enthusiastic audience last evening in Hamilton hall, Wood street, Francis Edward Edgar of New York, Angelus soloist, and Henry Moorhouse of Philadelphia, violinist, opened the series of concerts which are given this week by way of dedicating the new recital hall.

Mr. Edgar's splendid work with the Angelus, particularly in accompanying his own baritone solos, and Mr. Moorhouse's violin numbers, was heartily applauded. This evening at 8:15 o'clock, in the same hall, the second concert of the series will be given, with David Baxter of London, England, basso, as the star attraction, assisted by Mr. Edgar at the Angelus and Mr. Moorhouse, violinist.

Mr. Baxter will sing "Myself When Young," from "In a Persian Garden," the beautiful song cycle by Liza Lehmann, and Dudley Buck's "Sunset," together with other favorite numbers.

Mr. Moorhouse will play the andante movement from Mendelssohn's concerto for violin and piano.

GOEBEL MEN WIN IN CONVENTION

Blackburn Loses in Kentucky. Asserts That Bryan Will Not Bolt at St. Louis.

A COMPROMISE PLATFORM

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, KY., June 8.—What promised to be a bitter contest for control of the state organization came up in the Democratic state convention, which met here today. The result of the first struggle, the election of a temporary chairman, was a decisive victory for the administration forces led by Gov. Beckham. Gov. Beckham was elected temporary chairman by a vote of 517 to 322 over Judge Frank Peake of Shelby county. The fight against the administration was led by Senator J. C. S. Blackburn, assisted by Senator McCreary and Congressman D. H. Smith.

When the convention opened State Chairman Allie W. Young made a lengthy speech in which he attacked the methods of the administration workers, but disclaimed any personal animosity toward Gov. Beckham. At the close of Chairman Young's speech Congressman Ollie James, acting for the administration men, placed Gov. Beckham in nomination for temporary chairman. Senator Blackburn nominated Judge Peake for chairman.

Says Bryan Will Not Bolt.

Senator Blackburn disclaimed any idea of making war on individuals, but asserted that the Democratic party in Kentucky was falling into the grasp of a machine and out of control of the voters. He declared that he and his associates would contest to the last ditch the efforts of the administration men to elect Lewis McQuown chairman of the state central committee. Passing to national affairs, he spoke in favor of an uninstructed delegation. His sentiments in this respect met the approval of the convention and subsequent references to Parker and McClellan as available candidates for the presidency provoked only moderate enthusiasm. Concerning Mr. Bryan, the senator denied that the Nebraska statesman would bolt the St. Louis convention if the candidate or platform should prove unsatisfactory.

The overwhelming vote for Gov. Beckham for temporary chairman put his adherents in full control of the temporary organization.

The temporary organization having been completed the convention took a recess until 8:30 o'clock.

One Declares for Parker.

District meetings in each of the 11 districts were held for the purpose of naming delegates to the national convention. Only one district, the Fifth, declared for Parker. Of the 20 delegates named at the other 10 district meetings, three are regarded as possible Hearst men, six are for Parker and 11 declined to express a preference.

The first business before the convention at the evening session, the report of the committee on credentials, did not provoke the struggle that was expected and the four contests passed upon received a unanimous report and were unanimously adopted.

There was a short but spirited debate in the committee on resolutions over the platform, five members demanding the reaffirmation of the Kansas City platform. In order to prevent a contest on the floor of the convention a compromise was effected by adopting the following opening clause:

Platform Names Bryan.

"The Democratic party of Kentucky in convention assembled affirms its faith in and adherence to the great and fundamental principles of Democracy as expounded by Jefferson, exemplified by Jackson and ably defended by Bryan."

The resolutions demand a revision of the tariff in a conservative spirit. The alleged encroachments by the president upon the constitution are denounced. The resolutions further favor regulation of combinations and recommend a thorough investigation of all federal departments. The course of Gov. Durbin of Indiana in refusing to surrender on requisition from the governor of Kentucky, the persons of William S. Taylor and Charles Finley, fugitives from justice, charged with the murder of William Goebel, is denounced as a violation of the Constitution.

DENIAL BY DEFENDANTS.

Declare They Did Not Mismanage Oil Company, as Charged in Suit.

GREENSBURG, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—Judge Alexander D. McConnell heard testimony today in the suit in equity brought against the Hartley Oil & Gas Company, the stockholders of which are prominent business men of New Kensington. The company was organized two years ago with a capital of $5,000. It started operations in Belmont county, O., where it had a 1,200-acre lease, and they drilled in 42 wells. The value of stock jumped to $2,200 per share from $50 per share and last September it began paying $15 a month dividend on each share. On October 22, 1903, a pool was formed and 353 shares were transferred to John L. Armitage, L. N. Wilson, E. J. Sinclair, S. R. Seybold and Charles Shulz, who were appointed trustees. The plaintiffs claimed that they had no control of their stock after the pool.

The defendants deny mismanagement or irregularities. They are: John L. Armitage, Edward J. Sinclair, S. Seybold, Charles Shulz, Frank Zillmer, H. Burns Smith, Isaac Claster, David B. Webb, Daniel Sullivan, David B. Doty, M. J. Kahle, Robert G. Shepard, M. F. Shields, E. C. Booreland, R. J. Davis, Henry M. Keer, A. Reininger, F. E. Waughman, Daniel Burns and David E. Bevan. BROWN'S CHECKS ALTERED, SWORE EXPERT J. B. FLACK

Sensational Testimony Given in the Audit of the Dead City Recorder's Estate—Banker Holds the Same Opinion.

J. B. Flack, a handwriting expert, created a sensation in orphans' court yesterday, in the audit of the account of Mrs. Ella Brown, executrix of the estate of J. O. Brown, when he declared the word "Colonial" was not part of the original writing on a number of checks, said to have been used to pay for Colonial stock.

Mr. Flack said this word was not originally written on any of the checks, and gave his reasons. He was shown Miss McLean's check book and said that check 836 never came out of that book. The check book, he said, was printed by the Hinton C. Johnston Company and the check by the Columbus Bank Note Company. He pronounced the figures one one check to be bogus.

Mrs. Ella M. Brown testified that she was not at the McLean house when Mr. Brown died. The papers she had that belonged to Mr. Brown she received from Mr. Burleigh after Mr. Brown's death. There was nothing among them in relation to any transaction with Miss McLean. There were two checks to the order of Charles McKee, relating to the South Dakota ranch. She received no bank books, but did get pass books on the Mellon and Allegheny National banks. Asked about the dresser in Mr. Brown's room, she said she had seen it there, but never received or had access to it.

William Montgomery, the banker, swore that the word "Colonial" was written on all the checks at one time. On the $3,500 check the writing was so strange that he said he would not have paid it had it been presented to him.

The attorneys compared Mr. Brown's stubs with Miss McLean's pass books. The stubs showed the following: "January 29, 1903, N. W. McL., $479 18; August 2, 1902, N. W., $5,000; October 9, 1902, N., $9,500." The pass book of Miss McLean showed deposits of $479 18, on January 29, 1903; $9,500, on October 8, 1902, and $5,050, on August, 1903. The hearing will go on today.

BANK RESOLUTION WAS NOT PRINTED

Bill Passed by Councils Contrary to Wallace Act and Decision by Rodgers.

INJUNCTION IS THREATENED

Treasurer Frauenheim said yesterday he would take no further part in the controversy over the city depositories and would obey councils. Controller Larkin is preparing to take the mater into court and will probably ask for an injunction against Frauenheim to restrain him from depositing the city funds in the four banks selected by the finance committee and approved by councils or he may enjoin the mayor from signing the contract.

The controller holds that councils violated the new charter act of 1901 and also the Wallace act passed by the legislature in 1874. The controller claims the new charter act was violated when the resolution appointing the depositories originated in the finance committee, instead of councils. He also claims councils violated the Wallace act in not having the resolution printed for use of councils. He bases the latter contention on the following provision of the Wallace act:

"No bill shall be considered unless referred to a committee, returned therefrom and printed for the use of the members of councils."

The resolution naming the depositories was not printed and according to the Wallace act and a written opinion of City Solicitor Rodgers in a similar case, its passage by councils is said to be illegal.

When councils a few months ago passed the resolution appointing three filtration experts to examine the estimates of Director Bigelow the resolution had not been printed. It provided for the expenditure of money for service lasting only a few weeks while the bank resolution provides for a four-year contract. Rodgers gave councils a written opinion that the passage of the resolution, for the reason mentioned, was illegal and would have to be printed and passed by councils the second time. This was done and since then every resolution partaking of the nature of an ordinance, as does the bank resolution, has been printed for the use of the members of councils and placed on their files.

Dr. H. B. Burns raised this point in select council yesterday, but neglected to mention it until after the vote had been taken on the resolution and announced by the chair. President Wightman said it was then too late to be considered. The point, however, is said to be the strongest ground for any action of the controller.

Treasurer Frauenheim does not take seriously the controller's objection that councils did not designate the depositories, as required in the new charter act, because the resolution did not originate in councils. He said yesterday on this point: "I take it that if councils approve the action of the finance committee, this is equivalent to councils themselves selecting the depositories, and this is the position I shall take, if the city clerk shall certify to me that councils have done this. As to whether councils have passed the resolution legally or not, that is another question which I have not given any consideration."

Controller Larkin yesterday received a letter from a leading trust company stating that if $500,000 of the city's funds were deposited in its keeping it would pay the city 3 per cent interest.

WANT HOME FOR AGED.

Knights and Ladies of the Maccabees Plan for Such an Institution.

The second day's session of the annual review of Ladies and Knights of the Maccabees of Pennsylvania opened yesterday morning, the ladies convening in Braun's auditorium, South Highland avenue, and the Knights in Masonic hall, Collins avenue.

During the morning session of the Ladies of the Maccabees, Sir Knight C. L. Covell, great counsellor, made an address setting forth the plans of the Knights to establish a "Maccabees Home" for old and enfeebled knights and ladies of the order. The ladies enthusiastically indorsed the proposition. The location of the home has not been decided upon nor will it be for some time, but efforts will be made to locate in this county. Supreme Commander Mrs. Lillian L. Hollister then installed the newly elected officers and after a discussion on proposed amendments to the Great Hive laws the session adjourned. During the afternoon and evening the visiting delegates were taken on a trolley ride throughout the city. The convention concludes today.

The session of the Knights was devoted to a discussion of the proposed home, the amendments to several laws and a proposition to increase the insurance rates. No definite action was taken in any case.

BRADDOCK HIGH SCHOOL LOSES THREE TEACHERS

Three teachers have resigned from the Braddock high school and others have resigned from the Braddock public schools. The high school teachers resigning are Miss Alta G. The principal and one teacher are all that are left of the faculty. The school board next week will fill the vacancies.

COMMITTEE MET FIRST TIME IN TWO YEARS

The committee on charities and corrections finally effected an organization yesterday by electing E. R. Walters chairman and City Clerk Hassler clerk. The new committee never before had a quorum and the same committee of the last council had not met for two years. The committee had only a lot of bills to approve, the total amount of which was $9,017.69. Nearly all of them were for extras in building the new city home at Marshalsea. All were approved.

The Gazette desires to call the attention of those of its readers who contemplate summer trips to the announcements of the many summer resort hotels published on page 14 of this issue.

Lord Lansdowne speaks very plainly concerning the information sent the British foreign office concerning conditions in the Kongo state. He declines positively to make public the names of witnesses or informants of Consul Casement until measures can be taken to protect them from the possible vengeance of Kongo administrators. This language would be called "shirt sleeves diplomacy" if used by an American secretary of state, and perhaps it is. At any rate, it is a good reason for not publishing the names at present. And the charges of Consul Casement are of a character that demands prompt, impartial and vigorous investigation. There is grave reason to believe the Kongo administration is greatly in need of radical reform.

There are persistent reports from Russian sources of serious Japanese losses at sea and Japanese repulses on land at the hands of the Port Arthur garrison. These are not officially confirmed, because the Russian war office admits it has no official or authentic communication with Port Arthur. There is no news from Tokyo because the cable from China to Japan is not working. It is conjectured the interruption of this service is "official" and connected with the Japanese censorship. Meanwhile there are many rumors, one to the effect that Port Arthur has been taken. It will be just as well to await official information before buying or selling any bonds, for stock-jobbers sometimes deal in rumors. There will be news soon, and news of great interest and importance.

Select council yesterday passed the ordinance designating the city depositories as recommended by the finance committee. But the point is raised that the ordinance was not printed as the law requires and a legal decision may be necessary upon its validity. As for the contention that the ordinance should have originated in councils, it seems that both branches voting for it has practically the same effect. The matter of printing is different, since it is a specific technical requirement. Again, the bid of 3 per cent interest made to Controller Larkin is a matter of value to the public. We believe that depositories should be selected under a competitive system, though recognize the difficulties in the way of guarding such a plan against weak and-be custodians, unless a deposit of city might be required.

Admiral Chadwick has landed marines at Tangier, not for the pursuit of bandits, but for the protection of the Belgian consulate, at the request of the American consul. The act is amply supported by precedents. There have been many exchanges of such courtesies between the United States and Great Britain and a few between the United States and other nations. It may seem irregular to the Moroccan authorities, but even so, it may tend the more positively to convince them that the American warships are not at Tangier on a holiday excursion, but have business to perform.

An Allegheny County Man.

There is nothing in the absurd cry of the cities against the country that has been raised in opposition to the selection of a successor to Senator M. S. Quay. Senators in the congress of the United States represent their respective states rather than their counties, while representatives are elected by districts to care more particularly for local interests. The choice of an Allegheny county man in this case is good politics and good sense. It is conceded on every hand that Western Pennsylvania is entitled to the honor and Allegheny county is the hub of Western Pennsylvania.

Every material interest of this great state west of the Allegheny mountains centers in this county. Every sentimental interest converges toward the same point. "The state of Allegheny," as the revered Lincoln dubbed it on account of its vast industries and its intense patriotism, combines urban, suburban and rural territory in a manner not easily duplicated elsewhere in the country. Why then should it not lay claim to having one of its citizens selected for this high office?

When one pauses to consider the vast interests that are centered here and the diversity of them he may realize better than in any other way why they should be represented in the United States senate by a man familiar with their details and having intimate knowledge of their needs. In the manufacture of iron, steel, brass, glass and other things Allegheny county is central. The production of oil and gas is intimately connected with this same center and from it the vast operations are directed. To the mining of bituminous coal this city and county bear the relation that a capital does to a nation. In short, whatever public interest is to be represented by a senator at Washington is to be found here, typical of that interest throughout the state.

The cry of country against city is one that has to do with the pettiest phases of politics only. That cry was not raised by the great cities at either end of the state when the two Pennsylvania senatorships were held by citizens of Dauphin and Clearfield counties, or of Tioga or of Beaver. Philadelphia and Allegheny have not been monopolizing the holding of this office. Allegheny county has not had the honor for 50 years. It surely has as good a claim as any other county in the state, and by virtue of its larger population and greater interests has a stronger claim than many of the counties to recognition by the state and by the Republican party. For a good many years other counties of Western Pennsylvania had their favorite sons chosen as representatives-at-large from Pennsylvania, though it was the increased population of Allegheny county that gave the state title to one of these congressmen. Allegheny did not complain of the "country" then, and the "country" should not now complain of Allegheny's ambition.

Every reasonable consideration points toward the selection of an Allegheny county man for senator. We hope the governor, the party leaders and the party itself are all ready to concede this point as one of right and justice.

The Extra-Session Question.

The discussion of the extra-session question reveals substantial unanimity of opinion in the sensible conclusion that there is no proper occasion for convoking the legislature. In no quarter does the idea of an extra session meet with favor and the suggestion has drawn forth some vigorous protests.

From the standpoint of public policy every consideration is against it. It would be useless, expensive and mischievous. Upon those points there appears to be no dissent. The only open question is that of legal propriety. The constitution of Pennsylvania says:

"In case of a vacancy in the office of United States senator from this commonwealth, in a recess between sessions, the governor shall convene the two houses, by proclamation on notice not exceeding 60 days, to fill the vacancy."

It is to be observed with regard to this that the office of United States senator is created by the Constitution of the United States, and no conditions or qualifications are recognized by national law save those prescribed by the Constitution and laws of the United States. The provision of the state constitution does not affect the power of the governor to make an ad interim appointment. It was put into the state constitution when sessions were changed from annual to biennial and with a view to the contingency that a vacancy might happen soon after the regular session, so that the governor's appointee might have possibly two years to serve. In the present case only a few weeks will elapse after the time when the governor's appointee would take his seat and the meeting of the legislature in regular session. Congress meets in December, the legislature in January. The holiday recess subtracts about two weeks from the opening month of the congressional session. To go to the trouble and expense of convoking the legislature in extra session to elect a senator for a few weeks of service would sacrifice the spirit of the constitution to the letter of the law.

But it may be said, has the governor any option in the matter? Is he not bound to fulfill the letter of the law without regard to its intent? We do not think he is. That is not sound constitutional doctrine in this country. The courts habitually consider the practical purposes of constitutional and legislative requirements. The constitution itself admits of a wise discretion in such matters. The governor is not a simple mandatory. His oath binds him in broad terms to "support, obey and defend the Constitution of the United States and the constitution of this commonwealth." Such support, obedience and defense of the constitution in its intent and purposes would be best shown in the present emergency, by making an ad interim appointment under the provisions of the Constitution of the United States and letting the election by the legislature go over to the regular session.

An argument has been advanced by a local contemporary for immediate summons of the legislature in which the Hon. Charles R. Buckalew, author of the clause cited above, is quoted in explanation before the constitutional convention. Mr. Buckalew's remarks simply cover the point of vacancy occurring soon after the regular session of the legislature, and he urged his clause merely as preventive of an appointed senator sitting throughout a session of congress and parts of two others. He admitted the propriety of temporary appointment by the governor and the clause itself leaves wide discretion to the executive as to when an extra session may be called.

A Shameful Situation.

The situation in Colorado is steadily growing worse. The battle at Dunnville between the state troops and a body of union miners thoroughly armed and intrenched constitutes civil war. It is not riot. Unless the state authorities are speedily able to bring about a reign of law and restore civil constitutional government the federal government will be obliged to take the situation in hand. In the long struggle between the miners' union and the mine operators there have been a series of atrocious assassinations, crowned by the dynamite outrage at Independence station, resulting in an extensive loss of human life. This has so incensed public sentiment that the fact of membership in the miners' union, in whose hall suspicious documents have been found, is being treated as a crime. Members of the union are being deported by the carload.

The primary cause of this disgraceful condition of affairs is undoubtedly the persistent violation of the elementary rights of personal liberty so frequently attendant upon labor troubles. Every man has a natural right to refuse employment the terms of which are not satisfactory to him, but he has no right to prevent another man from accepting the employment he declines. But just that position is often practically taken in connection with the operation of labor trusts. Those not in the trusts are exposed to shocking outrages upon their individual liberties. Wise labor leaders deplore such tendencies, whose injurious effect they recognize, and responsibility for the crimes prevalent in the Colorado mining districts is disavowed by the miners' unions. Nevertheless, public opinion puts the responsibility upon the unions and measures of the most arbitrary and high-handed character are being put into effect. It is the old story of anarchy generating tyranny.

Although no case has yet been presented justifying federal interference, the situation is one that justly excites the grave concern of the national authorities. The deplorable situation is, however, the plain result of local conditions and the cure ought to be found and applied by the people of Colorado. The course of events has shown that the local administration of justice is not sufficiently strong, impartial and independent to protect the community against the spread of disorder. This defect will have to be remedied before constitutional government can be securely re-established in Colorado.

Talked of in Gotham

By GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—Pastors and others connected with the executive department of churches are trying earnestly to solve the question of "Why men do not go to church." It was only last Sunday that the Rev. Mr. Aylesworth of Jersey City welcomed a number of men in shirtwaists and women without bonnets, and to keep them in countenance, wore unconventional summer garb himself. He believes that men will go to church if they're comfortable while there.

From shirtwaists to palm leaf fans and ice cold lemonade, served by discreet, soft-footed waiters during the service, is but a step, and the board of governors of the Hudson City Young Men's Christian association in Jersey City, will take that step at the association's religious meetings during the hot weather. Boys with trays of lemonade will go among the worshipers at the Sunday prayer meetings for the benefit of those who may be thirsty. As the secretary has explained, "thirsty outsiders" will not be welcomed. It is not intended to serve "free drinks," solely as such, but as a means of making sincere worshipers comfortable. People who want the lemonade without caring for the spiritual refreshment can find all the cool drinks they want at the soda fountains and in the ice cream parlors. That is the way it is put by the secretary. In saying this perhaps he has hit on one of the objections to giving cooling beverages to the congregation.

Another difficulty may be that the decorum of the meetings will be disturbed, and that the odor of piety which must exhale from any properly conducted religious service will be so flavored with lemons that attention will be distracted from the real purpose of the assemblage. These are objections that arise in the mind unbidden. Whether they will prove insurmountable is to be decided by a trial. Certainly, if men do not go to church in Jersey City, it is not because of lack of inducements, extraordinary and otherwise.

R. R. Quay Is Silent.

R. R. Quay was a guest at the Holland house today. Newspaper interviewers sought him as soon as his name appeared upon the register, but not much was got from him on the subject most interesting to the public—the vacant United States senatorship of Pennsylvania.

Helps to Make Pews Valuable.

Magistrate Crane recognized an important element of ecclesiastical ethics when he held, in court, that it is a "God-given privilege to snore," even in church. He added that if he owned a church he would be glad to have people come there to sleep. Certainly. Why not? If people were to be punished for sleeping in church, what a cataclysm would result. What would become of thousands of highly respectable middle-aged and elderly folk who get part of the worth of their pew rents by dozing calmly in their seats on these warm summer mornings?

The occasion of Magistrate Crane's remarks was the arraignment of a 17-year-old boy who had crawled through a window into a church and gone to sleep under the organ. It happened that the organ was out of repair. Had it been working it would have crushed the slumberer to death. The magistrate not only discharged the boy from custody, but got him a job at $5 a week. It made the sexton angry. But then New York sextons generally are angry to say nothing of their entertaining the delusion that they own the churches with which they are connected.

Reform That Saves Money.

Economy is still carving its way into the soft snaps of men in the municipal employ. It has just dug into the police department, where it will mean a saving to the tune of $121,000 a year. It was this way: Drivers of patrol wagons have been policemen drawing salaries of $1,400 a year. They will be sent to "pound the sidewalks," and their places on the wagons will be filled by regular drivers who will be paid $2 50 a day. This will throw 210 patrolmen to the ground to do regular police duty. The policemen, not liking it, at that cuts no figure with the board of aldermen, who realize that this is an age of healthy reform in New York, and that the people at large are watching them.

Makes Some Men Nervous.

Now that Mrs. Hannah Elias has been held in $50,000 bail on a charge of blackmail, interest in her case has deepened. To say that there is nervousness among a number of eminently respectable men of affairs in this city would be to express it mildly. And the worst of it is, for them, that names are bandied about from mouth to mouth which are not likely to find their way into print until they become part of the court record.

Undesirable Immigrants Held Back.

According to the immigration officials here, the reducing of the passage from Europe to America by steerage to $10 is likely to result in many undesirable people coming here. The first batch of $10 immigrants, which arrived yesterday, and which consisted of 1,284 men, women and children from Antwerp, were a mixed lot. Not less than 420 were detained for various reasons, leaving the others free to continue their journey. The fact that more than half of the total number were prevented from coming further into the promised land than Ellis Island should be a guarantee that undesirable immigrants will not have any more opportunity of overrunning the United States because they come for $10, than ever has been the case. The general impression here is that the bugaboo is crushed, as soon as it tries to rear its head.

Would Relieve Park Row.

It is generally hoped that there will be nothing to prevent the making of a tempoary bridge from the Brooklyn bridge to City Hall park so that borough elevated trains from Brooklyn can discharge and take up passengers away from the hurly-burly of Park row. It will be a steel structure, and will cost $100,000. That is, it will if it is built, as seems probable. Mr. Best, the bridge commissioner, promises its removal at the end of 18 months, when the permanent terminal, taking in the subway, the "L" and the bridge cars, should be ready for use.

Some arrangement to relieve the awful conditions at the bridge is absolutely necessary. They cannot be allowed to continue indefinitely, for the simple reason that they are worse every day. Like many abuses which are talked about continuously, the people have heard so much about them that they listen with indifference—unless they happen to be among the unfortunates who are buffeted, twisted, dragged, shoved, crushed, mauled and howled at twice a day just because they want to get to their regular employment and back again.

He Was "Square," Anyhow.

Myles McDonnell, who was killed today in Albany by one of his quondam friends, was known in Harlem as a "square" gambler. Ever since he had so narrow escape from conviction of murder, some four years ago, in connection with a fracas in a Harlem saloon, he has been more or less a marked man in his own neighborhood. The result of the constant observation, on the whole, was that he was a "square" fellow. That is a wholesome compliment to any man, anywhere.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Say, dear doctor, can you tell
What will make a sick fellow well?
—Old Song.

That isn't much of a trick if you know what made him sick.

There's the rub.

Almost any ill may be removed or corrected if its origin or cause is known.

It is not enough to give an illness a name and then proceed to administer remedies regularly listed in the family doctor book, or in the physicans' vade mecum.

Disorders do not occur by rote, therefore may hardly be remove by rote.

This we do know, however, that whatsoever it must have had a good and sufficient cause. Also, that relieving the effect temporarily does not remove the cause. If a vessel is leaking you may prevent the leakage from annoying you by collecting it in another vessel, but the true remedy is to repair the leaking vessel.

* * * * *

For some years past we have been taught that most of our physical ills are due to microbic germs. Upon the discovery of these the public was led to believe, or at least to hope, that the doctors would soon be able to cure all sorts of disorders simply by killing the particular germ associated with any particular disease.

But not so. At least no reliable panaceas have yet been discovered, and now the physicist and philosopher come back with the same old question: What are the particular causes of particular diseases?

And then the thoughtful, everyday sort of man wants to know why people get sick anyway.

No doubt you would like to have a few pointers on this, even if you are not much given to sickness. The reason that you don't know why you are sick is that you haven't given to it the same attention that you give to other matters—even to matters of far less importance.

And then that ancient notion that sickness is sent upon us as a punishment still lingers around, even among some of the more intelligent.

* * * * *

It is quite true that sickness is a penalty invited by the violation of the laws of health, and in that sense may be said to be a punishment for sin—the sin of negligence as to the manner of living.

Systems of medicines and methods of cures need not be considered here; but it is right and proper to call attention to existing conditions which are inimical to health, and to the physical well being of the people in general.

Impure water has long been acknowledged to be one of the prime causes of sickness. This is so reasonable that none are found to deny it. It is held to be the cause, or at least one of the most common and prolific causes of typhoid fever, which conclusion has been reached after much research by medical scientists. Whether the fact noted by some that outbreaks of typhoid closely follow changes of weather which excite catarrhal conditions in the more susceptible, and aggravate them in those chronically affected, will be considered worthy of the attention of scientists remains to be seen.

Local and particular causes of ill health are for the consideration of those who profess to know about them, and are accepted by the people as authority on such matters.

But when it comes to the consideration of the common and more general causes, such as the condition of the streets, of filthy localities and of the accommodations for the comfort, convenience and the welfare of those who visit public buildings, parks and places of common resort, the people have the right to speak, and to speak plainly.

In relation to the sanitary condition of these the public have a perfect right to speak; also a perfect right to demand that they be kept in at least reasonably good sanitary condition and reasonably well supplied with such conveniences as are really necessary to comfort and essential to their health.

The lack of these in our parks, places of public resort and the highways is being widely discussed, and with increasing earnestness and vigor. In fact everyone is fully aware of this lack of consideration for the comfort and health of the people, and all are beginning to wonder why it has been allowed to go unnoticed so long, or at least unattended to.

Were personal comfort and convenience all that need be considered in the matter they surely would be enough to warrant the prompt attention of those whose business, and of those whose duty it is, to look after the welfare of the people.

But now that it is being generally conceded by the medical profession that many of the ailments from which we suffer, are due to auto-infection—that is from poisons within the body—it becomes all the more important that the conservators of the health of the public should investigate and determine the sanitary conditions of all places where the people are wont to congregate, and those in particular where they are invited to congregate.

Those who have visited foreign countries say that throughout Europe the public is everywhere supplied with all necessary conveniences for comfort, and that to this, more than to the ocean voyage, is due the health of travelers; while the wonder of foreigners visiting our parks and places of public resort, is that not more of our people do not suffer from auto-infection.

Possibly if they were to remain long enough and inquire closely enough, they would find that we are already paying the penalty for this neglect, with a prospect of paying still more dearly.

* * * * *

Since this is a subject that most deeply interests the general public it should be taken up and discussed freely and seriously, for it appears to be a most serious matter. Although it looks to be a very much one-sided question it may be discussed, and it ought to be agitated sufficiently to arouse public interest. When this has been done the powers that be will take action, since they get their cues from the people.

The individual who through carelessness, or indifference, neglects to care for his own health and dies, is little short of a suicide. But if he compels another to neglect the means of health so that he dies, what is he?

If the public is compelled by existing authorities to live in open violation of well-known and well-defined laws of health, who is most to blame for the sad and serious results that must necessarily follow?

There are other phases of this subject which the people may well discuss among themselves, as well as in public assemblages.

At least, the matter is worthy of your careful consideration, and then if you have aught to say, why say it.

Sage Doesn't Live, Just Exists.

Russell Sage says that he never took a vacation and that he is opposed to the "habit." There could be little travel for the great majority without vacations.—Philadelphia Press.

SUMMER'S VISITORS.

What is this blushing little face
Of pink and white upon the vine,
That clambers to my window-sill,
And shyly looks up into mine?
Ah, yes, I know thee, sweet newcomer,
For all your tip-toeing and creeping—
You are the rosy face of summer,
Into my sunny window peeping.

What is the music that I hear
On thorp and woodland, fen and moor,
That stirs the silence on the hill,
And enters in my open door?
Ah, yes, I know thee, little drummers
And fifers of the budding wood—
You are the voice of many summers,
Returned to break the solitude!
—Aloysius Coll in June Housekeeper.

In Old Kentucky

THE STROLLER.

"The hospitality of the Kentuckian is proverbial—and sometimes expensive," said a Pittsburgh newspaper man who returned not long ago after working an assignment in the Bluegrass country.

"That sounds like a paradox," remarked the railroad man. "I have always understood that 'hospitality' is a synonym for 'gratuitous.' How can it be expensive?"

"In thousands of ways," said the man behind the pencil, "and if it hadn't been for a warm-hearted city editor and the Pennsylvania hospitality of our fellows up here, I'd have found myself in a merry pickle. However, it turned out all right and now I look back on my experience with pleasant memories.

"It happened that I was pursuing some politicians and made my campaign up through the center of the state. I hit Lexington tired and hungry. I met a lot of typical Kentuckians there and they naturally mistook my fatigue for thirst. This was the beginning and I am not egotistical in saying that I surprised them by holding up my end. I remained in Lexington for the greater part of a week. One of my new friends was particularly good to me and on the day before I intended winding up my work and returning to Pittsburgh, I confided this to him: 'Come around to the hotel tomorrow and we'll have a little Sunday dinner. I will leave for home on the 2:30 train in the afternoon.'

"After taking stock of my finances I discovered that I would have just enough money to settle my bills, pay for two good dinners and buy my meals and Pullman tickets back home. My trip had been unusually expensive, and I prayed that I would find the managing editor in good humor when I should land back in the office.

"At noon on Sunday I checked my baggage and walked down into the corridor of the hotel to meet my guest. There he was talking with four others, all of whom had shared in introducing me to the proverbial hospitality of Kentucky. Then I realized what had happened. My invitation had been misunderstood and the entire quintet marched into the dining room. I followed along behind wondering how I should pay the bill. The thought of meals en route home had vanished and I saw visions of a long ride in the day coach.

"But I put on a cheerful front and we sat down to the table like men who had millions to draw from. Clams, olives and consomme came in due form, but my mind was a blank. I talked of Henry Watterson's denunciation of Hearst and wondered if $40 would see me through. My friends acquiesced and ate broiled haddock. Then I wondered if it would be possible to stand off the hotel man. My guests declared that Kentucky spring chicken is the best in the land—but I was trying to figure out how I should raise $40 in 40 minutes. The Roman punch was deliciously cold—but my brow was colder still when the head waiter came over and dropped the remark that the proprietor had gone to Cincinnati and that a new clerk was on the desk. Our cigars were 25 cents straight, there being a tradition that this brand of perfectos is more in harmony with a big staff assignment. The waiter asked if I would settle with him or in the office. I told him that I would adjust my accounts with the clerk. Then he brought the finger bowls and announced that my train was on time and would leave in 15 minutes.

"I took leave of my guests and rushed into the corridor, but did not make any flying trip to the station. That wasn't my train now. I had resolved to stay another day in Kentucky, and going to the telegraph office I sent this telegram back to Pittsburgh on that Sunday afternoon: 'Dropped the wrong bill into the collection basket. Send $40 quick.'

"And the first thing I did on Monday morning was to have my blue telegram turned into cash. I settled my bills and came home. When I entered the office the boys hailed me as a true martyr, and asked me why I didn't give away libraries, because, they said, it would be cheaper."

Pass the lie with a Kentuckian and he will draw a gun in two seconds. This is pretty fast work, but there is another provocation that will bring his answering wrath in still less time.

"Like all northern people I had heard much of 'mountain dew' from the moonshine still, but had never tasted any of that famous liquor," said another Pittsburgher, who had just returned from Bourbonland. "I had been told that there was not a bar in the state where moonshine could not be found and, innocently enough, I accepted this advice. I walked into one of the leading hotels in Frankfort and approached the bartender with the frankness of the true southerner. He looked at me for an instant and inquired, 'Mint or toddy?'

"'I'd like to taste a little of that Magoffin county moonshine that you have back there under the counter—'

"The bartender's face did not change expression. His eyes never twitched and apparently he was not conscious of the slightest movement or exertion, but in the infinitesimal fraction of a second he interrupted my question by flashing two ivory-handled Colt's 44s before my eyes. I remember that I looked straight down those glistening barrels and into his livid face.

"'Git!'

"He spoke with indignation that was enthusiastic, while he pointed his nose toward the door.

"'What's the matter?' I cried after regaining my breath.

"'Git!'

"I walked a couple of steps and stopped. By this time he had lowered one of the guns.

"'Who told you we kept moonshine? We never kept it. Git!'

"'My dear sir, you're badly mistaken,' I explained. 'I'm from Pennsylvania and understood that moonshine could be procured anywhere in Kentucky. I intended no harm, and if any wrong has been committed I am alone to blame.'

"He looked at me a moment and then put his irons back on the shelf. The barroom happened to have no other visitors, and he invited me to come back. He stooped over and produced a little jug and from this poured out two glassfuls of clear white liquid. He shoved one toward me and pronounced this toast:

"'Here's hopin' that the next time you want Magoffin county dew you'll ask for 5 X. Are you on?' He gave a silent hint to the vigilance of the revenue officials.

"But what I can't understand is that anybody should ever wish to taste 'Magoffin county' more than once."

PERSONALS

Senator Charles W. Dick of Akron, O., left over the Pennsylvania railroad last night for Washington. Senator Dick, who is one of the delegates-at-large from Ohio, says the Ohio delegation has not decided who to support for vice president. "It would be unwise," said the senator, "to request Joseph Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives, to resign the speakership for the vice presidency. As speaker he is the right man in the right place. Although he would make an excellent vice president, he is of more service to the country as speaker.

"Representative Robert R. Hitt and Senator Charles W. Fairbanks are the two favorites of Ohio, but the delegates will use their discretion at the Chicago convention."

Joseph L. Rend, formerly a coal operator of Pittsburgh, but now located at Detroit, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh on business. He said before leaving for home last night that the backbone of the strike of the masters and pilots has been broken and within the next few days all lake boats will be in commission.

Ex-Gov. William A. Stone left last night for Harrisburg, where he will attend a meeting of the state capitol commission, of which he is chairman. A number of labor leaders also left for Harrisburg with the intention of appearing before the commission with a request that all work on the capitol building be done by union men. In the party were Thomas M. Blackburn, president of the district council of the painters' organization; John Haskins, secretary of the Building Trades' council, and Frank B. Smith, general vice president of the painters.

Miss Laura T. Ross, secretary of the Young Women's Christian association at Wilmerding, has handed in her resignation, to go into effect next week. Miss Ross will spend the summer months at Columbia university, fitting herself for missionary work.

For Isms Cause Schisms.

Ex-Controller Bird S. Coler, in an after-dinner speech, said he objected to any "ism" in the Democratic party, and spoke disparagingly of "Bryanism," "Clevelandism" and "Hillism." Notwithstanding these avowals, there are a few shrewd politicians who suspect that a tinge of "Colerism" in state and national politics might not be altogether displeasing to the former controller.—New York Tribune.

TROOPS COMING HERE TOMORROW

Other Regiments for Hawkins Unveiling Will Arrive Saturday Morning.

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED

All is in readiness for the unveiling of the Hawkins' monument and the reception of the 5,000 troops and visitors who will come here to participate in the ceremonies at Schenley park Saturday. The bronze statue and tablets have been put in place and nothing remains to be done save the erection of a few additional seats and some grading about the monument. The final meeting of the general committee, of which ex-Mayor W. J. Diehl is chairman, was held yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the chamber of commerce.

Tomorrow night the first of the troops will reach Pittsburgh. They will be two battalions of the Ninth regiment and one battalion of the Thirteenth. They will march direct to the music hall of the exposition. The Third regiment will get here about 7 a. m. Saturday morning. It will go under canvas at Forbes street and Craft avenue on the grounds of the Eighteenth regiment. The Fifth regiment will arrive at 8 a. m. the same morning and will be quartered in Old City hall. The Sixteenth will arrive about the same time. It will go to the Kauffman building, Ninth street. The Tenth regiment, the command of the late Col. Alexander L. Hawkins, will not have permanent headquarters, as most of the members live within a convenient distance of the city. The other regiments will remain over until Sunday morning. Saturday night, after the unveiling, a band concert will be given on the campus of the Eighteenth regiment.

Gov. Pennypacker and staff and Gen. Miller and staff will arrive Saturday morning on the same train from the east. The party will be met at East Liberty by Col. A. J. Logan and escorted to the Hotel Schenley, where all visitors will be entertained with the exception of the brothers of Col. Hawkins. In order that the guests may be looked after Capt. W. S. Brown was yesterday appointed chairman of an entertaining committee, and he, in turn, named the following members: Charles Reisfar, Jr., Col. A. J. Logan, C. A. Muehlbronner, D. L. Gillespie, W. H. Keech, R. J. McKay, W. J. Mustin, William Flinn, J. M. Guffey, F. J. Torrance, James E. Porter, Charles O. Smith, Thomas G. Sample and Lee S. Smith. The committee will have headquarters at the Schenley.

Mrs. Hawkins will reach Pittsburgh at 11:25 a. m. Saturday over the Panhandle. She will be met by her son, Lieut. Frank B. Hawkins of the Twenty-seventh United States infantry, who reached the city yesterday. She will remain at the Schenley until time for the unveiling. The brothers of Col. Hawkins will stop at the Monongahela house. There will be about 17 immediate relatives present.

The principal business discussed yesterday by the committee related to carriages and the parade. Col. John P. Penney of the committee on parade reported the make-up of the line. Following the carriages, the first of which will be occupied by the governor, will come a group of Grand Army men. They will fall in at Meyran avenue while the parade proper will form at the foot of Fifth avenue and march out Fifth to Schenley park. Then will come the Spanish war service men, the 10-regiment association and veterans of the Fifteenth cavalry. It is likely, however, that the Fifteenth cavalrymen may use the carriages. Through a failure to answer correspondence only a few of these survivors will be present.

Col. Logan, chief marshal, said that he had made police arrangements for the parade which include the roping off of Fifth avenue from Market to Grant street and an escort. He also requested the Pittsburgh Railways Company to stop all cars on Fifth avenue between St. Pierre street, east, and Liberty street, which will be done.

The exercises will be opened by a short address by Chairman Diehl followed by the invocation by the Rev. John Milligan. Gen. Stewart will then deliver an address and will introduce Clarence Burleigh. Burleigh will be followed by the governor. City Solicitor W. B. Rodgers will receive the monument on behalf of the city. In all the committee has raised $4,602.

NO MORE DELEGATES.

Knights of Columbus Council Turns Down Plan for Increased Representation.

LOUISVILLE, KY., June 8.—The supreme council of the Knights of Columbus concluded its business sessions today.

After a hot debate a resolution, introduced by the New York delegation for the purpose of increasing the representation of the states according to their numerical strength, was lost by an overwhelming majority. Under the present laws no state can have more than eight elective delegates. The change would have affected no state except New York, but would have more than doubled the representation of that state.

He Had Twenty-One Suits.

Twenty-one new suits of men's clothing were found in Charles Neely's room, 1312 Maria street, when Neely was arrested there yesterday. It is said that the clothes were taken from a freight car, near the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie passenger station. The police say Neely is likely one of an organized band which has been at work in the yards of local railroad companies lately.

Curry College Exercises.

Exercises will be held by the graduating class of Curry college in the college hall next Tuesday and Friday evenings. The commencement exercises and presentation of diplomas will take place Monday evening, June 20, at Pittsburgh Carnegie music hall. The annual outing will be held at Cascade park on June 28.

To Arrange for Reception.

A meeting of the reception committee of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templars of Pennsylvania, will be held in the office of Former Mayor William J. Diehl, Farmers' bank building, Saturday at 10 a. m., to arrange for the grand commandery reception at San Francisco on September 15.

NEWSBOYS HAVE DONE GOOD WORK

Exercises at Close of the School Year at the Home Show Results.

MANUAL TRAINING SUCCEEDS

Work well done against great odds in the lack of preliminary training and time to devote to the tasks, was shown at the informal exercises last evening, that marked the close of the year's instruction at the Newsboys' home, Sixth avenue and Forbes street.

Instead of the usual set recitations, etc., Charles B. Horton and Miss Horton, the boys' teacher, made the commencement far more simple and natural this year. There was some singing in chorus by the 43 "newsies" who were present and then Charles and George Pryor and Frank Rickel and Glen Rose sang duets. George Wilson gave a tenor drum solo.

Mrs. James R. Kay in an interesting way told the boys of the sights of the St. Louis world's fair, and mentioned the fact that in the institutional department she had found a photograph and short sketch of the Newsboys' home of Pittsburgh. For each of them she brought back a little souvenir of the fair as a present.

Edwin Z. Smith, vice president of the home, quizzed the boys on geography and found that without special preparation their knowledge was very good. William Robbins also made a short address. Miss Horton gave a geography drill, using a cross to represent the four points of the compass for each hemisphere, the boys naming the continents, countries, mountains and rivers in each quarter.

A number of specimens of the writing, map-drawing and arithmetic of the boys who have taken the courses were shown. It was also shown that upward of half of those attending had never had even one full year of instruction in the public schools.

After the exercises in the school room the carpenter shop was visited where samples of the work done by the boys in the last four months were shown. Chairs, bric-a-brac, picture frames, etc., made with considerable skill, were among the results. This work is under the direction of James Gardner of the Fifth ward schools, Allegheny. It was stated that a complete outfit for teaching type-setting and shoe repairing will be installed this summer.

One of the big features of the year will be the annual outing which will take place tomorrow at Kennywood park. Arrangements have been made for a ball game, other outdoor sports and two big meals.

Cave Dweller Is a Prisoner.

Andrew Schultz, who has been making his home in a cave at Four Mile run, near the Junction railroad, was arrested Tuesday, by Special Officer Thomas Finney, charged with being a suspicious person. Schultz is alleged to have served several terms in the workhouse already, and when brought into court yesterday was ordered to forfeit $50 or serve 30 days more in the penal institution. It is said that following each time Schultz got his liberty, petty thefts occurred in the Italian colony.

FEE SYSTEM IS THREATENED NOW

Allegheny Councilmen Will Try to Put Delinquent Tax Collector on a Salary.

BITTER FIGHT IS PROMISED

Several caucuses of members of both branches of councils within the past few weeks resulted yesterday in the drafting of an ordinance that is aimed at the abolition of the fee system in the delinquent tax office of Allegheny. The measure has been carefully drawn by the attorneys consulted by those back of the scheme to change the order of things, and next Thursday night the bill will be presented in the common branch by Robert H. Henderson of the Third ward.

The ordinance is the sequel to the desperate fight made just a year ago when an attempt was made to abolish the office entirely and put the collection of delinquent taxes in the hands of the city treasurer. The original bill passed select council but was defeated in common by the administration councilmen after a battle lasting for months, during which many delays were occasioned by those fighting the measure. Since then another plan has been discussed by certain members of council and the outcome is Henderson's ordinance providing that the delinquent tax collector be put on a salary equal to that paid the heads of other departments.

In the measure it is provided that the collector of delinquent taxes be known as the director of the department of delinquent taxes, his salary to be fixed at $4,000 per year. This is the salary paid the heads of the other departments. A chief clerk with a salary of $1,200 a year, and another clerk who shall get $900 per annum is to be allowed if the measure passes.

Within the past few days the secret of the thing has leaked out and those who will be on opposite sides in the fight that is sure to follow have been doing missionary work among the members of councils. Director Thomas B. Scandrett, who gets credit for defeating the other bill affecting the delinquent tax office, will undoubtedly be in the fight in the interests of Harry M. Davidson, the delinquent tax collector. Last year those who managed the fight against Davidson secured the signatures of 28 members of the common branch to a pledge that they would support the measure. It was after this statement was made that several members either changed their minds or remained away from the meetings of council.

It was said at that time no further effort would be made to disturb Davidson in his position, but, according to those who are responsible for the new ordinance, there are many members of councils opposed to the abolition of the delinquent tax office who are willing to support a measure that will put the collector on a salary. They assert that the ordinance will surely pass, although they concede that a bitter fight is certain to be made.

Embodied in the bill is a provision for the payment of the first year's salary out of the contingent fund of the city, and for subsequent years out of appropriation No. 1, known as "salaries." It is further provided that, "the books of the delinquent tax collector shall be subject at any time to the examination of the controller, mayor, finance committee, or any other committee appointed for the purpose by councils." According to figures submitted during the fight in councils last year the delinquent tax office of Allegheny is worth $24,000 a year to the collector.

Shot While Looking at Revolver.

John Odelitze, aged 35, was shot in the breast yesterday in a Polish boarding house at 4808 Railroad avenue and was removed to the St. Francis hospital. His injuries are slight and he will be released in a few days. The shooting puzzled the police. Odelitze, with Joseph Hausen and Joseph Aunstin, were examining a revolver, which was accidentally discharged.

TREASON TAINTS DOWAGER EMPRESS

Czar's Mother Accused of Complicity in Loss of the Steamer Manchuria.

LUST FOR WEALTH IS BLAMED

By EDWIN H. CLOUGH.
(Special Correspondence to The Gazette.)

NIUCHWANG, May 4.—The empress dowager, Marie Feodorovna, Princess Dagmar of Denmark, mother of the czar of Russia, is accused of indirect responsibility for the only treason that has thus far in this war gangrened the Russian cause. The loss of the steamer Manchuria is charged publicly in every military mess and in the wardroom of every warship, to the insatiate greed and the unscrupulous, mercenary instinct of her serene highness.

This accusation is in itself treason, but the men who are fighting Russia's battles are desperate in the disasters of Port Arthur and the defeats on the Yalu. They justify themselves in the aphorism that the integrity of Russia is far superior to the personal pecuniary profits accruing from the speculative enterprises of the dowager empress. Little account is taken of the loss of life during the fighting in opposition to the Japanese passage of the Yalu, but much distrust is manifest when the Russian soldiers speak of the guns that were captured by the enemy. The list of killed and wounded in the several bombardments of Port Arthur are carefully concealed, but the fact that much of this damage was inflicted by Russian shells captured by the Japanese from the Manchuria is loudly proclaimed with bitter crimination of the hand that flung away those shells—not the hand of the gunner of Admiral Togo's fleet, but the delicate, aristocratic hand of the empress-mother in whose salon assembled the leaders of the war party of holy Russia.

Scandal is Widespread.

It is a scandal whose breath blows athwart the empire, from the Nevsky prospect to the ice floes of Vladivostok, paralyzing the patriotic energy of the military commanders and discouraging the efforts of the fighting men on land and sea.

The dowager is a heavy stockholder in the East Asiatic Company, a Danish corporation operating lines of steamers throughout the far east. It is even said that she controls the business of the company. In any event, it was the dowager who procured a royal edict authorizing the ships of the East Asiatic Company flying along the China coast, to fly the Russian flag. It was the dowager who opened the prohibited ports of Vladivostok, Port Arthur and St. Petersburg, to the traffic of the so-called "Russian volunteer fleet," and it was the dowager who made Russian citizens of the Danish captains of these vessels during the period of each voyage, to the end that they might have every facility for clearing from Russian ports.

It is not charged that the dowager actually abetted the treason that placed the converted Danish liner in the hands of the enemy, but it is declared that, if it had not been for the money lust of the imperial huckster, the precious cargo of the Manchuria would have been shipped to Port Arthur on a man-of-war or on a colyroad transport, commanded by a loyal Russian captain. It is declared with bitter emphasis that Russian shells would not have been available for the killing of Russian soldiers.

Immense Ammunition Cargo.

The Manchuria sailed from Odessa bound for Port Arthur, where she was due on or about February 8—fatal date in the Russian calendar. She was loaded with munitions of war valued at 12,000,000 roubles, and an elaborate military balloon apparatus, indicating conclusively, by the way, that the Russian war department knew that hostilities were inevitable even while they were haggling over diplomatic quibbles; indicating, moreover, that Russia was preparing for the event upon which she had determined; and disproving, by material evidence, to be marked "exhibit A" in the court of the world's opinion, her constant assertion that she was taken by surprise, that Japan was a treacherous aggressor and that Russia had the moral right to hold the Japanese to account for executing the attack before presenting a formal declaration of war.

When Capt. Blou, commander of the Manchuria, arrived at Shanghai it was known to the Russian agents at that port that hostilities were imminent at any moment. It was a question then whether it would be safe for the ship to proceed. Only the captain and the accredited agents of the Russian government were supposed to know the real character of the Manchuria's cargo, but it has since been ascertained that the Japanese were accurately informed as was Gen. Dessino or the Russian consul at Shanghai.

Pointed Questions Asked.

Who furnished this information to the Japanese? The boxes and packages were marked as ordinary freight when they went aboard the steamer at Odessa. It was a state secret that a military cargo worth 12,000,000 roubles was on its voyage to the strongnold of Russia's possessions in the far east. How did the information department of the Japanese service learn that this cargo was aboard the Manchuria? What was the amount of the bribe? And who received it?

These are the questions that echo from the Kremlin to the Viceregal palace of Port Arthur. There are various answers but none of them are as yet loud enough or bold enough to implicate the trafficking dowager directly—it is not yet safe to say that the greed of the Danish princess was sufficiently powerful to tempt her to sell that cargo shipped for the defense of the country among whose people she abides in alien isolation.

Immediately on the arrival of the Manchuria at Woosung bar, a council of war was convened by Gen. Dessino to determine whether it was advisable that the vessel should proceed. In this council, besides Gen. Dessino, was the Russian consul at Shanghai; Capt. Crown of the Russian gunboat Mandjur, afterwards killed in the disaster of the Petropavlovsk, and Capt. Blou of the Manchuria.

Captain's Strange Tactics.

The captain was asked how many knots he could steam and when he could reach Port Arthur. He replied that he could steam 10 knots an hour and he thought that he could reach Port Arthur before February 8, that, barring unforeseen accident, he ought to complete the voyage in 58 hours.

In this showing he was permitted to depart.

He reached the offing of Port Arthur during the morning of February 8, while the Japanese bombardment of the fortress was in progress. It is in evidence that Captain Blou had ample time that an attack was being made on Port Arthur and that he persisted in going to and fro behind the Japanese line of attack, refusing to take his ship to a neutral Chinese port.

The Manchuria was captured as all the world knows. After the third bombardment, marked with the names of the merchantmen were picked up outside of Port Arthur. The battleship Retvizan, used by the Japanese in the battle of the Northern Korea. The Russian sub-officers of the Manchuria are prisoners of war in Japan. Capt. Blou, pleading his Danish nationality, permitted to leave the country, even the safeguard of a Japanese officer.

Japanese think that he will give them another of the Czar's Russian volunteer fleet now in Shanghai, treading on the Russian and the Japanese answering questions concerning his command, the steamer commanded temporarily a subordinate.

State Convention Declares the Party Would Feel Honored in Having Him as Leader.

CRUMBINE NAMED FOR JUDGE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

UNIONTOWN, PA., June 8.—The Prohibition state convention met at 9 o'clock this morning in the West End theater with about 250 delegates present. It was called to order by State Chairman C. R. Jones of Philadelphia, and the roll call was read by George E. Hoffman of Philadelphia. The committee on credentials appointed included T. J. Baldridge and John A. McConnell, of Allegheny county. A permanent organization was effected with Dr. E. L. Eaton of Allegheny as chairman, and five vice presidents. Chairman Eaton appointed the following committee on resolutions: A. A. Stevens, Tyrone; Homer L. Castle, Allegheny; A. Foster Mullen, Cumberland; Isaac Monderau, Crawford; W. W. Hague, Warren; W. M. Likins, Fayette; R. Z. Replogle, Cambria; D. B. McCalmont, Venango; Prof. H. B. Patton, Lancaster; Joseph Chalfant, Delaware; S. D. Nichols, Luzerne; B. Budd Cameron, Northumberland; George C. Morgan, Montgomery; Rev. George B. Bell, Philadelphia, and Rev. W. S. H. Hermans, Bradford. A resolution was adopted that the state central committee be apportioned according to the Prohibition vote in each county and each county will have at least one member with one member additional for each 200 votes or major fraction thereof. Charles R. Jones of Philadelphia, was unanimously re-elected chairman of the state committee. A resolution was adopted eulogizing General Miles amid great enthusiasm. The resolution declared that the Prohibitionists would feel honored in having him as their leader in the campaign. The platform adopted embraced the following principles: That the liquor traffic licensed has proved itself to be an abettor rather than a restrainer of the liquor evil, and political dictators are scored and their rules are alleged to tend to anarchy, create disrespect for the law and convert the intended government of the people for the people and by the people into one of oligarchy. The following plank was also inserted in the platform:

"We believe that the judges of the several courts of this commonwealth ought to be amply compensated for their judicial services by proper and lawful appropriations out of the public treasury, but we protest against unlawful and unwarranted legislation that seeks to take from the public treasury funds for the payment of salaries in violation of the constitution of the commonwealth, and we further protest against the prostitution, by misrepresentation of the constitution of the commonwealth to the uses and purposes of political machines built upon and maintained, not for the good of the people, but for the perpetuation of political classes that seek to rule and dictate the people without their consent.

The following presidential electors were nominated: M. H. Stevenson, R. S. Glass, Fred C. Britan, Allegheny county; A. Foster Mullin, Edward B. Cooper, Edward R. Steinmetz, Charles R. Jones, Samuel Christian, Lewis L. Eavenson, Philadelphia; Charles Palmer, Chester; Howard Leopold, Pottstown; H. D. Patton, Lancaster; W. Lathrop, Scranton; C. W. Burtels, Wilkesbarre; Harry A. Reber, Schuylkill Haven; Charles F. Hathaway, East Ararat; James Mansel, Williamsport; B. Budd Cannon, Milton; J. S. Yankey, Fayettesville; John D. Greybill, Carlisle; D. S. Kloss, Tyrone; Rev. J. H. Hector, York; E. K. Kane, Kishequa; E. B. Worrell, Butler; H. L. Robinson, Uniontown; M. S. Marquis, New Castle; George Fellows, Cambridge Springs; E. A. Dixon, Lehighton; John B. Barr, Punxsutawney; Rev. H. C. Cockrum, Jackson Center, and T. P. Herschberger, Pittsburgh. The delegates to the national convention to be held in Indianapolis number 144. The "Big Four" are: S. C. Swallow, Harrisburg; Thomas P. Herschberger, M. S. Marquis New Castle, and A. A. Stevens, Tyrone. The delegates from Allegheny county are: M. H. Stevenson, H. L. Castle, John McConnell, R. W. A. Simmens, J. F. McClelland, H. W. Coad, R. S. Glass, E. L. Eaton and J. M. McCabe.

A campaign fund of more than $4,000 was raised. The new state executive committee comprises 15 members, including Homer L. Castle of Pittsburgh. The convention, after placing Lee L. Crumbine of Lebanon, in nomination for supreme court justice, adjourned. Crumbine was formerly the law parner of Gen. P. S. Gobin, and has high scholastic and legal attainments.

NAN PATTERSON IS REFUSED BAIL

Charge of Murder Made Against Woman Who Was With "Caesar" Young.

CORONER HAS NEW EVIDENCE

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—Admitting that he had been notified of damaging evidence, Coroner Brown this afternoon refused a formal application for bail in behalf of Nan Patterson, after Supreme Court Justice Clarke had dismissed the writ of habeas corpus in her behalf. The new evidence relates to the ownership of the revolver with which "Caesar" Young was killed in a cab, leaving the supreme court, Miss Patterson's attorneys went to Coroner Brown and asked him to hear an application for bail. The district attorney was notified and Miss Patterson was brought over from the Tombs.

Detective Sergeant Price, who has been working to discover the owner of the revolver, hurried into the coroner's private office and conferred with him. Mr. Levy and Mr. Jerome then argued for and against admitting the woman to bail. The coroner cut them short by announcing that on the strength of information just brought to him it would be impossible for him to admit the woman to bail. Miss Patterson was crestfallen as she was led back to the Tombs and was on the point of fainting.

Woman Charged With Murder.

In dismissing the writ of habeas corpus this morning Justice Clarke declared he believed the evidence showed that "Caesar" Young's death was the result of homicide rather than suicide. The district attorney today obtained a warrant for Nan Patterson on the charge of murder in the first degree, from a justice of special sessions. The warrant was issued on evidence contained in affidavits made by Drs. O'Hanlon and White, who performed the autopsy on Young; Policeman Junior and Detective Sergeant Quinn, who arrested her after the tragedy, and William Luce, Young's brother-in-law.

After securing the warrant Assistant District Attorney Garvan laid the Young case before the grand jury. J. Morgan Smith and his wife, who is Nan Patterson's sister, were brought to the district attorney's office on grand jury subpoenas. When Smith entered the grand jury room he was accompanied by counsel for Miss Patterson. By their direction Smith refused to answer questions on the ground that he will be a witness for his sister-in-law. Mrs. Smith was not called before the grand jury and after a consultation between District Attorney Jerome and Police Captain Sweeney, the other witnesses were notified that they would not be called upon for the present.

Claims He Saw the Shooting.

Of a story that a man had been found who saw Young commit suicide, Lawyer Unger said today: "Within two days we have received not one but a dozen letters, if not more, from persons who claim they saw the shooting of Caesar Young."

A man who said his name was Algernon C. Meyer of Jacksonville, Fla., declared today that he saw the shooting. According to Mr. Meyer the shooting appeared to be accidental. He declares the woman was struggling with the bookmaker in the cab. The revolver was in his right hand, his left arm was around the Patterson girl's neck.

"I have been informed of the statement of Algernon C. Meyer, who claims to be an eyewitness of the cab tragedy and it sounds fishy to me," said District Attorney Jerome this afternoon. Meyer called at the district attorney's office this afternoon and was subjected to an extended examination by Mr. Jerome and Mr. Rand.

Mrs. Margaret Young, the widow of "Caesar" Young, is at the house of her sister, Mrs. Bernard McKean, in Residence Park, New Rochelle, under the care of physicians. Great efforts are being made to have her ready to attend the inquest Friday.

Pittsburgh Baptist Association Appoints Committee to Act on Recommendation.

At the morning meeting of the second day's session of the Pittsburgh Baptist association in Beth-Eden church, Allegheny, yesterday, the committee on the Mt. Pleasant institute reported that the new building is to cost $60,000, and $15,000 should be raised as a nucleus fund. A committee consisting of W. S. Power, F. C. Brittain, B. S. Johns, W. A. Roystan, H. W. Woodward, A. J. King, G. T. Street, D. B. Ricard, J. M. Patten and R. D. Trick, was appointed to carry out the plan. Reading of reports took up the remainder of the morning.

In the afternoon the Rev. Dr. Warren G. Partridge was appointed to preach the next annual sermon, and missionary discussion was led by the Rev. Dr. E. B. Paumer and Miss M. A. Cooper. Reports showed a decrease in contributions for ministerial education, Bible and publication work and home and foreign missions, of $1,154 56, since last year. There was an increase of $2,797 36 in city and state missionary contributions. Foreign missions received from 53 churches $5,853 46, or $200 less than last year.

"The Purchase of an Empire," was the subject of an address last evening by Dr. E. B. He interestingly described the religious history of the country since the landing of Columbus.

After the address the new board of directors organized with Dr. W. A. Stanton, chairman; F. J. Rebbeck, secretary, and W. A. Schaffnitt, treasurer. The next meeting will be held June 6, 1905, but the place of meeting was not selected.

Knoxville Teachers Declare War.

Knoxville school teachers have refused to sign a circular in which they have been asked by the school board to contract for work during the coming year at a salary to be fixed by the board. It is said that teachers have rebelled and have positively refused to reconsize the paper. An election of teachers will be held next week. The board of directors is composed of J. F. Grimes, J. C. Quest, John Kennedy, J. C. Ewing, J. A. Griffith and W. H. Hunter. The teachers have been working for an advance in salaries and they construe the circular to mean lower rather than higher pay.

MONKEY TRIES TO PREVENT SUICIDE OF ITS TRAINER

NEW YORK, June 8.—Leaping from his cage to the ground a large chimpanzee attached to an animal farm in Jersey City, today tried to wrest from the hand of Matthew Broessell a knife with which the man in a fit of temporary insanity was attempting suicide.

Broessell has been training the monkey for a number of years and the animal was greatly attached to him. For the past few days the man had complained of the heat and declared that his reason would not last much longer. While cleaning the cage of the chimpanzee today he suddenly began to scream. He picked up the knife and slashed his throat several times. The monkey jumped through the open door of his cage and was wrestling with the man for the knife when the other keepers came. Broessell is in the City hospital in a serious condition.

HAMILTON NAMED.

Harrisburg Man Appointed by Chairman to Line Up Dauphin County Democrats.

HARRISBURG, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—State Chairman Hall today appointed Naudain Hamilton of this city, chairman of the Dauphin county Democratic committee, to take the place of the rival chairman, Robert Stucker and William Shireman, who were recently deposed by the state executive committee.

Hamilton accepted and immediately issued a call for a convention to be held on June 28 for the nomination of a county ticket. His appointment is satisfactory to the anti-Fritchey faction and there is a probability that he will be accepted by the Fritcheyites.

Stucker has called a meeting of the committee of which he is chairman for June 18 at which he will resign in the interest of harmony. He is displeased with Hall's action and says the chairman has exceeded his authority.

The police believe that safe robbers looted Rogers' store, made their escape on a freight train, searched the box, took what they wanted and hid the box under the coal.

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS AND — OTHERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or officinal names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name—"Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

REPUBLICAN PARTY SAFE IN ILLINOIS

Factions Are United and All Desire Success of the National Ticket.

HITT AND CANNON SATISFIED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8.

Speaker Cannon and Representative Hitt of Illinois are in the city and both have assured the president that he need have no fear of the Democrats carrying their state next fall. If any two men are capable of judging the political sentiment of Illinois, it should be Mr. Cannon and Mr. Hitt. They are veterans in politics and certainly should be able to read the political barometer correctly.

Mr. Hitt told the president that the various factions would get together and when the campaign opens all will be found in line for Deneen and the whole ticket. There will be no balking or sulking in the tents. Now that it is all over, a number of leading Republicans of that state have expressed the opinion that the nomination of Deneen was for the best. This expression comes from men who were backing other candidates, but who, most of all, desire the success of the national ticket. "Uncle Joe" Cannon himself says he thinks that Deneen's nomination was a good solution of the situation, and he was for Lowden.

Thus, while expressions of fear regarding the outcome in Illinois are heard in other sections from time to time, the leaders of that state decline to "view with alarm" the situation. Nor does President Roosevelt. He is not easily stampeded and the talk of danger in such states as Illinois and Wisconsin does not ruffle him.

Representative Jesse Overstreet of Indiana, secretary of the Republican congressional campaign committee, is here looking after the preliminaries of the work of the committee. Headquarters have not yet been established but Mr. Overstreet says he thinks they will be opened in New York and the work will be directed from there. He does not believe there is any chance of the Democrats getting the control of the house of representatives, but his committee will not go into the fight with over confidence. On the contrary, they will put up a stiff fight and make a certainty of the result.

While a goodly amount of campaign literature will be scattered over the country for the enlightenment of the people, the principal work will be done by public speakers. Good stumpers will be sent out everywhere and they will preach the gospel of Republicanism with old-time fervor. Heart to heart talks are what the committee will depend upon most.

Ramsey-Fowler.

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—(Special.)—Miss Helen Ramsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ramsey, Jr., and Dr. Samuel Robertson Fowler, were married at 6:30 o'clock this evening at the residence of the bride's parents, in Washington terrace. Only a few guests witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Dr. Alfred Ramsey of St. Paul, the bride's uncle, assisted by the Rev. Rr. Rhodes of St. Louis. A large reception followed. The spacious house was lavishly decorated in white and green.

Miss Jane Ramsey was maid of honor and Miss Florence Fowler of Syracuse, N. Y., sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Ethel Freeman of West Newton, Mass., were the bridesmaids. Two young girls held the white satin ribbons for the bridal party. They were Miss Mary Palmer Ramsey and Miss Katherine W. Ramsey of Dayton, O., sister and cousin of the bride.

The best man was Loring Robertson Fowler, the bridegroom's brother, and the groomsmen were John Patterson Ramsey and Palmer Ramsey.

The bride wore a robe of fine lace and net built over creamy satin, with a tulle veil caught with a large pendant of diamonds and pearls and a bouquet of lilies of the valley. All the maids were frocks alike, of white lawn and lace insertions, with girdles of pale green louisiene. They carried white sweet peas. Mrs. Ramsey was in black lace over whie chiffon.

Private cars from several directions brought parties of friends into the city yesterday and today. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McLeod of Wyoming had a large car party with them, including their family, Mrs. Coan of Wyoming and the Misses McLeod. From Pittsburgh came in another private car, its passengers being Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamilton and son, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Patterson and Miss Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Holliday and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Patterson, Jr., Mrs. Annie Duncan and Miss Duncan, Mr. F. H. Tristram, Miss Kate Abrams.

Dr. and Mrs. Fowler have made no plans for the summer beyond an eastern honeymoon. They will not be at home in St. Louis until November.

Summer Away from Pittsburgh.

A party of Pittsburghers going east this evening will be composed of Mr. and Mrs. John Brown Heron and their children, who, with Mrs. Heron's mother, Mrs. Sprankle of Philadelphia, will sail on the Princessa Irene on Saturday for Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Brooks of this city are stopping at the Westbrooke, Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Graham Brown will leave early in July for their summer home in Point Pleasant, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. William N. Frew will also open their cottage there this summer and other Pittsburghers at the resort will be Mr. and Mrs. William McC. Reed.

Mrs. Robert S. McKinney of North Highland avenue, her daughter, Miss Eleanor McKinney, and her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. J. P. McKelvy, will spend the summer months at the Brighton hotel in Atlantic City, leaving for the east early in July.

Mrs. Hall's Luncheon.

One of the smartest and prettiest affairs yesterday was the luncheon given by Mrs. William Maclay Hall, Jr., at her home in Morewood avenue, Shadyside. The affair was very informal with covers laid for 15. The decorations were especially beautiful, three baskets adorning the one table at which the guests were seated. The baskets were filled with thistles, lavender and white being the prevailing colors. There was no guest of honor. Mr. and Mrs. Hall will leave next month for their home in Bedford Springs, Pa.

For Three Guests of Honor.

Miss Marjorie Whiting and Miss Catherine Lurie of Chicago and Miss Edna Foster of Buffalo shared the honors at an informal tea which Mrs. W. H. Williams gave yesterday afternoon. The affair was conducted at the home of the hostess in Kentucky avenue, East End, the three guests of honor receiving with the hostess and her daughter, Miss Jeannette Williams, whose schoolmates they were. Among those who assisted were Miss Louise McKinney, Miss Marion McKibbin, Miss Dorothy Shoemaker, Mrs. John Biggert, Miss Janet Browne, Mrs. Thomas W. Smith, Miss Anna Browne and Mrs. Johns McClea'e.

MRS. ELIAS HELD IN $50,000 BAIL

Mob Menaced Carriage as the Prisoner Was Being Taken to the Tombs.

DENIES CHARGE OF BLACKMAIL

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—Hannah Elias was held today in $50,000 bond to answer the charge of blackmailing John R. Platt out of nearly $700,000. The demonstrations made against the woman by a mob as she was being carried from the Mercer street police station to the Tombs police court, has aroused an ugly feeling in negro quarters and the police are quietly taking precautions to deal with any trouble which may arise.

The Elias woman is regarded as a sort of heroine by a certain part of the negro population, and the feeling that she is being persecuted because she is a negress has put this section of the negroes into a dangerous mood. Threats have been made, and little else is talked of in the negro quarters.

The woman was taken from court and placed in the negro corridor in the Tombs prison, against the protests of her lawyer and herself. She is in a defiant mood, and said today:

"I will beat Mr. Platt. I have nothing to fear. I shall be vindicated when this trial comes up. I shall be vindicated not only in the court but in the public mind. When the time comes I will talk, but until then I must keep silent. But silence will not mean that I cannot answer Mr. Platt, as you will see. It is not true that I blackmailed him out of $700,000. He has been trying to make things as unpleasant for me as he can, but I am not frightened in the least."

Stones Hurled at Cab.

The police had their hands full when she was taken to court, a crowd of nearly 1,000 people, men and women, gathered at the police station and when the cab started with her for the court, sticks, stones and other missiles were hurled at it. Twenty policemen tried to force a way through the mob, but it was some time before they succeeded, and then only by the vigorous use of their night sticks.

The women, screaming and bareheaded, seemed more inclined to anger against the woman than the men. Most of the men were merely out for excitement and curiosity, but the women wished the Elias woman to know what they thought of her, apparently, and they wanted to get close enough to her to tell her in such language that she would not fail to understand.

As the cab neared the Center street police court another ordeal was in store for the woman, for a large crowd was in waiting. As the cab dashed into it a shower of stones greeted it, as well as jokes at the expense of the occupant, and of her alleged victim, Platt.

Assistant District Attorneys Lord and Kernochan first recited briefly the alleged facts. Then District Attorney Jerome stepped forward and said:

Jerome Demanded $50,000 Bail.

"Inasmuch, your honor, as this is a most serious crime, and that while the defendant here, Hannah Elias, is only charged in the complaint with the extortion of $7,500, a vast sum of money, I may say almost $1,000,000, is involved. I ask your honor to fix bail at $50,000. We believe that we are justified in requesting this sum because of the peculiar circumstances of the case."

Counsel for the woman protested vigorously against this amount as absolutely unreasonable.

"This is, as I have said before," replied the district attorney, "a very serious case. We will show in time that this woman has been living by the levying of blackmail on prominent citizens. Again I say we are justified in asking this sum for bail. This case has become a public scandal. The proceedings during the past 10 days show that this woman has tried to evade the law. She is not by her actions entitled to any consideration from this court. Society demands that if this woman be guilty she shall be severely dealt with."

The bond was fixed at $50,000. Justice Clarke will tomorrow hear argument on a writ of habeas corpus, issued at the request of the woman's counsel.

AMUSEMENTS NEXT WEEK.

A Benefit Concert at the Nixon. Melodrama and Vaudeville at the Bijou and Avenue.

An important event of the coming week is the concert given by the members of the Iroquois club to be held at the Nixon theater on Monday, June 13. The selections for this concert are most interesting and the evening promises to be one of rare enjoyment. The popular Pittsburgh actress and actor, Mrs. Lizzie Hudson Collier and William Beach will be seen in "The Old Love Letters," by Bronson Howard. Though only a one-act play, it is one of Mr. Howard's most charming and successful bits of playwriting; simple in theme, light in touch, at times most amusing, it all times is attended by a spirit of romance and heart interest. First produced at Abbey's New York Park theater on Broadway, near Twenty-second street, the theater where Mrs. Langtry was to have made her first American appearance had not the theater been destroyed on the afternoon of that day. At the time of the production of "The Old Love Letters" Abbey's Park theater stock company shared the favor of fashionable theater-goers and lovers with Wallack's and the Union Square theater company. The little play opens at a time when Florence Brownlee (Mrs. Collier) has just received a note from Edward Warburton (Mr. Beach) asking if he may call. She is waiting his coming. Years ago they had been betrothed, quarreled as lovers do, parted, but, unlike most lovers, had not made up. He has married, gone abroad, became a famous diplomat, but has been a widower for years. She has married and is now a widow. She greets him cordially when he arrives, and after a few minutes of trivial talk he tells her whilst hunting through an old trunk he has found her old love letters to him and has come to return them. Strangely enough, she has just found his to her. He suggests that just for fun they take them back and read them aloud to each other. They start to do so. They are each much annoyed whenever anything particularly amusing is found in the high-flown, affectionate, extravagant love of each other's youth. They finally discover that they both have been trying to play a part and really love each other and the curtain falls on "It came to bring you back your old love letters. I have brought you back my heart."

Charles Abbe, who was the leading comedian at the New Grand stock company and whose laughable and artistic creations have made him a strong favorite in Pittsburgh, will be the headliner at the Avenue. Family theater next week, presenting here for the first time "The Old Maid's Baby." He will play the part of an eccentric old maid, a style of character in which he has excelled on numerous occasions at the Grand. Mr. Abbe will be preceded by his little daughter, who is said to be an exceptionally clever dancer and she will be seen in terpsichorean efforts. The sketch is said to be funny and one well adapted to the tastes of vaudeville patrons. Among the 15 acts that will be presented are Tschow's wonderful cats, Moore and Littlefield, in "Change Your Act, or Back to the Woods," a laughable travesty on a supposed vaudeville rehearsal, and Will H. Fox, the original comedian pianist.

The big sensational melodrama, "Escaped from Sing Sing," will be the attraction at the Bijou next week. This is one of the oldest productions on the road today, and has given satisfaction everywhere it has played. It is one of the many successes of Dominick Murray, and is so well put together that during the progress of the play the audience is kept in a state of excitement from rise to fall of the curtain. Jimmy Britt, the conqueror of Young Corbett, has been engaged as an extra feature and will spar three rounds at every performance.

ENGLAND WILL NOT TRUST CONGO STATE

Wants Commission Named to Whom Will Be Given Proof of Cruelties.

STANDS BY BRITISH CONSUL

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 8.—The correspondence relating to the administration of the Congo independent state was issued this evening. It contains the Congo government's preliminary reply to the report of Roger Casement, British consul in the Congo state, who in December, 1903, after competing a tour of investigation undertaken under the orders of the British government, fully confirmed the worst reports of outrages perpetrated on natives of that part of Africa. Foreign Secretary Lansdowne acknowledges his reply under date of April 19, and expresses satisfaction at the fact that an inquiry will be made into the allegations.

Lord Lansdowne says that the names of persons, places and dates were suppressed in the publication of Consul Casement's report, not from a lack of confidence in the central government at Brussels, but because such particulars if furnished would be accessible to officials in the Congo to whom abuses are attributed. They would thus have an opportunity of exercising pressure on the witnesses or of concealing the evidence of their own malpractices.

Certain Witnesses Disappear.

Lord Lansdowne mentions an instance in which certain witnesses have already disappeared. He asks the Congo government to accept full responsibility for the manner in which detailed information will be used if furnished. He also asks the Congo government to communicate to the British government the measures that will be adopted to protect witnesses.

The Congo government, May 14, protests against the refusal of the British government to furnish Consul Casement's report complete, giving the names of witnesses and renews its request for full particulars contained in Mr. Casement's report as essential for carrying out an investigation. The disappearance of the witnesses cited by Lansdowne proves nothing, the Congo government says, because the witnesses probably disappeared after having given false evidence to Casement. The Congo government omits to give an acceptance of responsibility as asked by Lord Lansdowne.

Lord Lansdowne, under date of June 6, says the British government must be given an adequate guarantee that the information contained in Mr. Casement's report will not be accessible to the persons whose conduct is impugned, before measures are taken to shield the witnesses.

Investigation Would Be Partial.

Lord Lansdowne says that in the peculiar circumstances which have arisen, strict impartiality will hardly be attributed to an investigation conducted solely by the officers of the Congo state or the agents of concessionary companies, nor would the result be likely to carry conviction to the degree that seemed to be essential.

Lord Lansdowne in conclusion suggests the appointment of a special commission composed in part of persons not connected with the Congo state, empowered to collect evidence and take measures for the protection of witnesses. If such a commission is appointed, the British government would be prepared to place at its disposal all information respecting the affairs of the Congo state, and would give it every assistance, confidently believing that an independent commission would elicit the truth and effect a settlement.

In a letter accompanying the correspondence, Lord Lansdowne closely reviewed the answer of the Congo government to Consul Casement's report, upholding Mr. Casement and affirming that his investigation was proper and the results reliable in every particular.

"PE-RU-NA," A VALUABLE PREPARATION," WRITES DR. KEMBALL.

Most of the Ailments Peculiar to the Female Sex Are Due to Catarrh of the Pelvic Organs.

Rachael J. Kemball, M. D., 334 Virginia St., Buffalo, N. Y., is a graduate of the University of Buffalo, class 1884, and has been in the practice of medicine in that city since then. She writes as follows:

"My conviction, supported by experience, is that Peruna is a valuable preparation for all catarrhal affections. I have taken one bottle of Peruna myself and just feel fine. I shall continue to take it."—Rachel J. Kemball, M. D.

Peruna has cured thousands of cases of female weakness. As a rule, however, before Peruna is resorted to several other remedies have been tried in vain. A great many of the patients have taken local treatment, submitted themselves to surgical operations, and taken all sorts of doctor's stuff, without any result.

The reason of so many failures is the fact the diseases peculiar to the female sex are not commonly recognized as being caused by catarrh. These organs are lined by mucous membranes. Any mucous membrane is subject to catarrh.

Female Trouble Not Recognized as Catarrh.

Catarrh of one organ is exactly the same as catarrh of any other organ. What will cure catarrh of the head will also cure catarrh of the pelvic organs. Peruna cures these cases simply because it cures the catarrh.

Most of the women afflicted with pelvic diseases have no idea that their trouble is due to catarrh. The majority of the people think that catarrh is a disease confined to the head alone.

This is not true. Catarrh is liable to attack any organ of the body; throat, bronchial tubes, lungs, stomach, kidneys and especially the pelvic organs.

Many a woman has made this discovery after a long siege of useless treatment. She has made the discovery that her disease is catarrh, and the Peruna can be relied upon to cure catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

SCHWITTER WEST-VIEW

for a dollar less than twice the money he paid for them. He says that Schwitter West-View's matchless three sanitary advantages are bound to create such a great and constant demand for this property that there will be no cessation to its advance in value.

What any person MUST have in a tenable modern property is at Schwitter West-View—asphalt streets, sewerage, sand-filtered water, electric lights, both gases and traction service. But that's not all there is at this matchless new residential district. The wonderful, appealing attraction of Schwitter West-View lies in where it's BETTER than other properties. Take its grand stand-pipe system of pure, germless, sand-filtered water. Take its grand, healthful air—as pure as Switzerland's air—every bit as free from fog, smoke, dirt and soot as Switzerland's air! And then take its great sewerage system. It's a system that will never allow the pure air of Schwitter West-View to become contaminated with disease germs—it's a system that cannot breed disease germs.

MEDICAL SOCIETY EXPELS COLLEGE

THE MARSHAL IS SANDBAGGED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Young's Ocean Pier, ATLANTIC CITY, June 8.

One of the most prominent medical colleges of Baltimore has been expelled from the roll of membership of the Association of American Medical colleges, the leading sub-division of the American Medical association. The most interesting feature in connection with this incident is the fact that another medical college of Baltimore was the cause of the expulsion. The colleges interested are the Baltimore Medical college and the Baltimore University School of Medicine. The former charged the latter with accepting six pupils who were attending the Baltimore Medical college and graduating them as full-fledged physicians, giving them each certificates of the highest character, during the last months of the recent term at the Baltimore University School of Medicine.

This is in direct violation of the rules of the Association of Medical colleges, which provides that no students can be graduated from any college unless they have passed the entire last term in that college from which they are graduated. The Baltimore Medical college was represented in this city by its dean, Dr. David Street. He came here prepared for a fight and carried a stack of affidavits, class books and all evidence necessary to give him a case. He went before the convention of the American Medical association and stated his case in no uncertain tones.

The Baltimore University School of Medicine was represented at the time by its dean, Dr. H. H. Biedler. The evidence came as a surprise to the members of the colleges present, but since the news has gone forth it has caused much comment among the members of the American Medical association.

Word was received from Hammonton, 40 miles from here, of a daring attack this evening by three masked burglars on Night Marshal John W. Myers, who was doing street duty. The men attempted to rob the postoffice. Mr. Myers was sandbagged. Then he was tied to a tree with the threat that if he made an outcry the robbers would return and kill him. The marshal managed to get one of his arms free, and being exhausted he called for help. In a few minutes the streets were lined with people. At the rear window of the postoffice was found a kit of burglar tools. Four suspects have been arrested and are in the jail here.

URGING CLAIMS AGAINST TURKEY

John W. Foster Asks the State Department to Make Demands on Sultan.

IN INTEREST OF MISSIONARIES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Former Secretary of State John W. Foster called at the state department today and had a long interview with Secretary Hay respecting the claims of American missionaries against the Turkish government on account of the destruction of their property and hardships suffered by them during the last 10 years. Gen. Foster, in the name of the American missionary societies, urged that the state department bring some pressure to bear upon the porte to secure the payment of these claims. The present time was believed to be particularly favorable for securing a settlement. Secretary Hay listened attentively to Gen. Foster and promised to give the matter immediate attention.

Mr. Foster said tonight regarding his visit to the state department:

"I went as the representative of American missionaries and American institutions of learning in Turkey, and citizens interested in their work, to ask that this government endeavor to secure for them the same privileges that the Turkish government grants to the missionary and educational institutions of other nations. By settlement France obtained the right to maintain missionaries and colleges and schools in Turkey, the protection for them of the Turkish government, exemption from taxation, the recognition of their diplomas, and other concessions. By demand Germany has obtained the same privileges for her citizens and property, and so has Great Britain and Russia.

"President McKinley sent a request to the sultan that he appoint an ambassador to Washington, thus permitting the elevation of the American representative at Constantinople to the rank of ambassador. In order that this government might stand on the same plane as the European countries which have ambassadors, the sultan refused to appoint an ambassador to this country. President Roosevelt has repeated the request, and again it has been met with a refusal. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent in missionary and educational work in Turkey, and those of us interested in this work are naturally dissatisfied with the treatment received from the porte."

Delegates and members attended mass at the Immaculate Conception church, celebrated by Rev. Thomas McEnrue, pastor, assisted by Rev. P. A. Brady, of Leisenring, and Rev. J. Ensevius, of Penn. The sermon was preached by Rev. Morgan M. Sheedy, of Altoona. He spoke in high terms of the work of the union of the Pittsburgh diocese, especially of Bishop Canevin, who during his whole period in his has been an earnest supporter of the movement. The business session was held in the opera house with President J. G. Beane, of Pittsburgh, in the chair. The usual resolutions were adopted, pledging the union to total abstinence and thanking Rev. Thomas McEnrue and the Irwin societies for their hospitality. For delegates to the national convention at St. Louis on August 16, the following were elected: Rev. M. A. Lambing of Scottdale; Edward J. McCarthy, Stephen Madden and William McLaughlin, of Pittsburgh. Scottdale and Greensburg were candidates for the place of holding the next convention to the former won. Rev. J. G. Beane had no opposition for re-election as president, nor had C. G. McShane, of Pittsburgh, for organizer. For first vice president A. B. Floyd, present incumbent, was nominated and it developed that a faction wished to oust him. Several nominations were made and as fast as made, they declined. Finally R. J. West stood for the nomination and a ballot was taken resulting in the election of Mr. Floyd by a big majority. These officers were also elected: Second vice president Miss Margaret Hughes, of Pittsburgh; third vice president, James Galagher, of Pittsburgh; secretary, John M. Tighe, of Pittsburgh; treasurer, Hugh Donnelly, of Madison; marshal, William Clare, of Pittsburgh. Stephen Madden, of Pittsburgh, refused re-election secretary.

The meeting at the opera house this evening was a large one. President Noel, of Irwin presided. Addresses were made by Bishop Canevin, Rev. Fathers Beane, Lambing, McEnrue and Sheedy, and Messrs. "While this fortune is very welcome to me," said Mr. Crowley, in speaking of the matter, "I shall not, for a while at least, make any great change in my manner of living. I certainly shall not go to South Africa. I do not know what the exact amount of my inheritance will be, but from the letter of the South African lawyers the estate, of which I am the principal heir, is worth more than $1,000,000."

Crowley is 41 years old and before becoming a factory inspector was a deputy coroner and for a time a detective in the district attorney's office.

Man Crazy from Drink Finally Placed in Jail at Kittanning, Pa.

KITTANNING, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—John Kelly, who had been on a debauch for a month, on Monday tried to cut his brother's throat and later in the day attempted to commit suicide by cutting his own throat and wrist with a piece of glass. He was quieted down, but at 6 o'clock showed further signs of delirium and Policeman William Keer was sent for. When he arrived he was put in the waiting parlor and in a few moments was startled by the two nurses running down stairs with Kelly in close pursuit.

The officer intercepted the maniac and ordered him upstairs. Kelly obeyed him but when the officer followed him up to his room he attacked him. It was only after a fierce struggle that the officer, assisted by the nurses overcame the maniac. A straight jacket was put on him and when the third attack came on, he was taken to the county jail. FAIRBANKS BOOM BY 5,000 HOOSIERS

ALL WANT TO GET INTO HALL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 8.—Five thousand Indiana stalwarts are coming to Chicago week after next to root for Senator Fairbanks, who it is said, will accept the nomination for vice president if it is tendered him. Everyone of these Hoosier Republicans wants a seat in the Coliseum where the national Republican convention is to be held. Col. Harry New, national committeeman from Indiana and chairman of the committee on arrangements, candidly confesses that he is "up against it." The Hoosier phalanx is looking to Col. New to get the crowd past the doorkeeper. New says it's impossible. There is only room for 6,400 spectators and there are several states and territories in the union besides Indiana.

The Republican managers are making great progress in getting the Coliseum into shape for the convention. The chairs were installed today and by Saturday the big hall will practically be ready to receive the delegates. About all that will remain to be done will be the decorations. These will be appropriate, but not lavish. The immense arches will be draped with colors and a colossal flag will be suspended over the space occupied by the delegates. Smaller flags will be arranged on the grandstand occupied by the presiding officer and that will be all. Simplicity will rule.

The members of the national committee are expected to reach Chicago next Saturday and Sunday. Postmaster General Payne, chairman of the national committee, is expected to arrive Saturday, accompanied by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts; Senator Scott of West Virginia, Committeeman Richard C. Kerens of Missouri and other prominent leaders. By Monday all members of the committee will be on the ground.

The 2.98 skirts are the regular $5 walking styles, made of fine panamas, mohairs and novelty mixtures, in black, blue, brown and tan; tailor stitched, strapped and self button trimmed; 7 and 9-gore kilted and wide flare effects.

Excellent offers in desirable muslinwear

EVERYBODY knows the definition of the word desirable. But do all dealers strictly adhere to its meaning? Skimped garments, poor muslins, bad style — this trinity obtains in the muslin underwear stocks of many stores. Of course, they are the exact antonym of desirable. In every particular "The Big Store's" undermuslins are eminently good. They are the very essence of worthfulness, and are so invitingly priced, especially during the June sales, as to impel possession by all knowing and shrewd women.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—General inability to use their cudgels effectively with men on the cushions was responsible for the Pirates dropping the second game of the series to the Giants at the Polo grounds today, 2 to 0.

The fact that Phillippe and McGinnity were touted as the twirlers for their respective teams drew a big mid-week crowd to see this afternoon's event, every seat being sold before the pitchers' battle. In this they were not disappointed, as both pitchers fought for supremacy every inch of the way. Devlin's great stop in the early part of the game and Brown's throw to the plate in the seventh inning, completing a double play were fielding features.

That McGinnity added another game to his list of straight victories is due to the excellent support he received, the Giants being assisted by Warner, on which he caught Clarke sleeping in the third inning, retiring the side when things looked dangerous for the Giants.

"Iron Man" wasted very little time over Leach, the first batter up in the first inning, promptly fanning him. Clarke got a single this inning, but it resulted in nothing. In the fifth Leach again mingled nicely to center. Leach's attempted sacrifice tied up Bowerman and McGinnity, and he reached first safely.

Devlin made a polies stop of Beaumont's ran which had it gone safe, would have netted him three bases and sent in two runs. He was, however, nailed at first. Clarke's high bounder was gathered in by McGinnity in time to nail Phillippe at the rubber. At this point Warner and McGinnity pulled off a double on Clarke as he attempted to steal second, with Leach on third. Warner, instead of throwing to second, made a bluff in the direction of third, causing Clarke to slow up, then threw to Devlin, who caught the ball nicely snapped to Gilbert, nailed Clarke at second, making three out.

Sebring and Ritchey opened their half of the second by reaching first on Devlin's assist. The three batters failed to do anything in the swatting line, notwithstanding Sebring reached third with one out, and he was caught at the plate on Browne's quick return to Phillippe.

The Giants got a tally in the opening inning. Bresnahan's fierce clip was too hot for Ritchey to handle in time. Browne's sacrifice put him in scoring position and Devlin had no difficult kind of a proposition for Phillippe Bowerman singled, scoring Bresnahan. The Giants' second and last tally came in the sixth, the result of Browne's daring baserunning. He reached first on Brasfield's muff. After Devlin had flied out Bowerman singled. Mertes grounded to Brasfield and Bowerman was doubled up. Browne and Mertes executed a double steal, the latter scoring on Warner's single. Sebring collided with Bowerman in the ninth inning in trying to reach first on his hit to Gilbert, and was out for a few minutes. Pat Flaherty of the Chicago Americans reported to Manager Clarke and practiced this afternoon. He may face the Giants in tomorrow's game. The score:

BOSTON, June 8.—Boston won an extra inning game 6 to 5 today, bunching hits with Cincinnati's misplays after loose fielding had apparently given the visitors a safe lead. PIRATES HARMONIOUS SAYS MANAGER CLARKE

Bad Start Due to Bad Weather, but Champion's Leader Looks for Better Results.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—In an interview today Manager Clarke of the Pirates, said: "We made a poor start last spring, but not so bad as this. I blame our poor showing this spring to the bad weather we experienced right after our return from the south. The team was in grand shape then, but the cold, wet weather we butted into north simply tied us all up. We simply had to stay in our hotels. There was no chance to practice or to take any exercise.

"The consequence was there was hardly a player who did not gain in weight. It is pretty tough when players feel it necessary, in fact obligatory, to take off weight in the midst of the championship season. But that is what we had to do, and the old-timers on the team are only just now, with this hot weather, able to say they are somewhat near right.

"The players are in good shape now and are playing somewhere up to their old form, although not quite on edge yet. They will get there all right, however. All this talk about there being friction in the team, cliques, lack of discipline and all that nonsense makes me tired. Such stories are all false. Every man on the team is my friend and I am theirs, and they are all on their best of terms.

"Leever is just as good now as he ever was. I have Flaherty with me now, and he is just what I need—a left-hand pitcher, which I have not had since we lost Doheny. Then we shall have Lynch from Brown university, so I guess the old Pirates will be in the race yet."

YALE'S HEAD COACH.

Charles D. Rafferty of Pittsburgh Has Been Tendered the Place.

NEW YORK, June 8.—(Special.)—Charles D. Rafferty of Pittsburgh, captain of the Yale football team, and one of the best end rushes the university has had in years, has been invited to act as head coach of the eleven next fall. If he decides to return to Yale for a post-graduate course, he will accept the position. He is a good general and will up in all the fine points of the game, and should make a fine coach.

At a mass meeting of students the following officers of the baseball association for next year were elected: Manager, John S. Haworth, 1905, Simsbury, Conn.; assistant manager, Spencer Turner, 1906, Brooklyn, N. Y.; and vice president, Ward McLanahan, 1905, Hollidaysburg, Pa.

FOURTH OF JULY SPORTS.

Relay Race for High School Teams Will Be One of the Features.

Within the next few days the entry blanks for the Fourth of July sports will be out. Owing to the track at Schenley being repaired, the bicycle races will not be on the program this year, though several features will be added to the track events and with the exception of the bike races, the card will be one of the best ever offered.

One of the special events this year will be a relay race, open to High school teams. The relay race is in great popularity in Western Pennsylvania and already three schools have promised to compete.

MADE POOR SCORES.

Travis and Byers Play Poorly in Their First Game.

LONDON, June 8.—The contest for the open golf championship was started this morning at Sandwich in blustering weather. Owing to the heavy entry only one round was played today. Walter J. Travis, the American champion, started steadily and went out in 39, but he did not show up to good advantage in returning. His score for the full round was 83, which is poor. Travis drove further than during the amateur championship contest, but his pulling was inferior.

Thus far Thompson, a professional, leads with a score of 75. The score of E. M. Byers, American, was 91.

SHARKEY SAYS MINER MUNROE HAS A CHANCE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 8.—Tom Sharkey, who has fought both Jeffries and Munroe, is entitled to an opinion as to the outcome of next week's championship fight. The sailor who wears his new honors as a benedict easily, spoke freely of the fight today. He said:

"This fellow, Munroe, has a better chance with Jeffries than a great many persons believe. I think he has an excellent chance if he starts in right. Jeffries has been having easy game in his last few battles. In Munroe he will tackle a tough proposition. Munroe can take a pretty stiff punching and he can land a wallop that is sure to do harm if it reaches the right place. He is very clever at mixing it and will more than hold his own with the champion at close quarters. If Munroe rushes Jeffries he will win sure and he ought to score a knockout. He has the punch to do it, and Jeffries is not any too clever to keep him away. In fact, I believe that Jeffries has gone back somewhat and he will show it just as soon as he meets a fellow like Munroe, who can send as good as he receives.

"With both Munroe and Jeffries in good condition I think it will be a very fast fight. It will be a short fight, too, and it will be a wallop that will count. I look for a knockout in the early rounds. Munroe has everything in his favor; he is a young fellow improving rapidly. He has won all of his important battles since he met Jeffries at Butte. He has no trouble in coming back with a wallop. In our fight at Philadelphia I put him down an almost out with a wallop. He took the count and it seemed all over with him, but his good condition enabled him to come back strong, and he went the limit.

"That's the kind of a fellow that will give Jeffries a run for his money. The first round will probably be the hardest for Munroe. He is naturally anxious when he starts in, but once the opening round is over he is as strong as an ox and the farther he goes the more conf

SOCIETY

INVITATIONS were issued yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. F. Lovejoy for at-at-home on Saturday afternoon and evening, June 18. The hours will be from 4 o'clock until 8. The affair will be unusually large for a summer entertainment and if the weather will permit it will take the form of a garden party, the host and hostess receiving their friends on the lawn at "Edgehill," their home in Braddock avenue, East End.

The entertainment will also serve as a house warming for the new automobile house or "annex," as it is called, which will then be completed. The building is one of the finest and best equipped in the country and is the source of much interest to all the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lovejoy. It is built of gray brick and terra cotta, and is three stories in height and contains all the dynamos and engines for lighting and heating at "Edgehill." Twelve rooms are set aside on the third floor for the use of the servants. The walk over the building is a mile in length.

During the latter part of June Mr. and Mrs. Lovejoy will close their home in Pittsburgh, and with their children and servants will go to Shelter Island, L. I., where they will open their summer home. Later they will travel west to Glenwood Springs, Colorado, for a stay of five weeks, and from there will go to St. Louis for the exposition, returning to Pittsburgh about the middle of September. Their stately new home which is now being erected near the site of the present house, will not be ready for occupancy before next summer.

That old copybook maxim finds its most forceful application in the waste of vitality, which is called "burning the candle at both ends." A woman is often tempted beyond her strength by domestic or social demands. Some day she awakens from this waste of strength to the woeful want of it. She has become weak, nervous and miserable.

For weak, nervous, run-down women, there is no better tonic and nervine than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It restores the appetite, quiets the nerves and gives refreshing sleep. It cures local diseases peculiarly womanly which undermine the general health. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

"No doubt you have forgotten me, but after you read my letter you will remember me," writes Mrs. Amelie R. Morling, of 238 7th Avenue, S. W., Roanoke, Va. "In the year 1899, I wrote to you for advice, which you gave me free of charge. When I wrote to you I was a wreck; I could not walk straight for pains in my abdomen; could not sit down, lie down, or get any ease at all. I had what was called the best doctor here, but did not get any better until I went through a course of your medicine. I took eight bottles each of 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and ten bottles of the 'Pleasant Pellets.' I tell you the medicine made a cure of me."

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness.

BLACK & BAIRD,

WALL STREET SENTIMENT INCLINED TO BE BULLISH

Stock Market Was Firmer, but Lost Part of the Gains—Regular Dividends Declared on Westinghouse Airbrake.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

There was a moderate increase in the volume of business on the New York stock exchange yesterday and prices were firmer. Wall street professional traders are inclined to be bullish for a turn, but the range of fluctuations for several weeks past has been so narrow that traders do not wait for profits to accumulate. During the early part of the day prices advanced easily and were well distributed. Later, on profit-taking, they just as easily declined. There is no selling pressure and here and there special stocks appear to respond more readily to bullish manipulation. Reading was the favorite yesterday and ruled quite strong, advancing to 46¾, but losing most of the gain at the close. Naturally the public does not enthuse over predictions of a dividend in the not distant future on Reading common, but there is some force in the statement that last year the stock sold as high as 69 and the year before as high as 78, and that with its business and general finances in better shape today than for years, possibly, the stock is 12 points below its high mark of three years ago. The street is also inclined to take a more hopeful view of the Erie; but the movement toward a better market would look better if some of the higher class stocks were to become the leaders. In former years it was shares like New York Central, Pennsylvania and St. Paul that were selected for market leaders, conveying the impression that genuine investors were in the market. Today the most active stocks are those which never paid a dividend.

Atchison and the Pacifics were strong in the early dealings and advanced fractionally. St. Paul advanced to 141¾, but subsequently reacted to 141. Union Pacific rallied a point to 84¾, but lost the gain. The only other prominent feature of the railroad group was the weakness in Chicago Great Western, the common selling down to 12¾, a new low point on this movement. Ontario & Western was neglected during the greater part of the day and moved within a range of 24¼ and 25.

In the industrial list the strength of United States Steel preferred and the weakness in Amalgamated Copper were the features. For the first time in weeks London was reported a purchaser of Steel preferred, and while the amount taken was not large, it was regarded as significant. The stock advanced to 55¾ and closed at 54 bid, a net gain of ¾ per cent. The sinking fund bonds advanced to 74½ and closed firm at 74¼. Amalgamated Copper advanced to 50⅛ in the early dealings, but reacted to and closed at 49¼. Consolidated Gas was quoted ex-rights, and after opening at 180½ rallied to 190¼, but closed at 189¾. The rights were quoted at 15⅝ to 15¼. National Lead common was strong and higher.

The news of the day related to the crops and included rumors received from London of the fall of Port Arthur. The latter was circulated on the London stock exchange and was responsible for a sharp advance in Japanese bonds. The old 5 per cents advanced 2, per cent to 87½, the 4s were up 1 per cent at 76 and the new 5s were up ¾ at 87. Russian bonds remained unchanged at 90½ for the 4s. In European financial circles the impression prevails that if Port Arthur falls and the remnant of the Russian fleet there is disabled, the friends of Russia will insist upon opening negotiations for peace. In that event it would be natural for Japanese bonds to advance and for Russian bonds to hold steady, since it would mean no more war loans, and would tend to remove the nervous feeling in Paris and Berlin, the chief markets for Russian securities.

Grain markets were weak and lower on Snow's crop report, which always anticipates the official figures of the government and are considered in the trade as of equal importance as the report of the department of agriculture. Snow estimated the condition of winter wheat at 76.3 per cent of an average crop, as compared with his estimate of 74.5 a month ago, and the government's estimate of 82.2 a year ago. He placed the condition of spring wheat at 90.9, against 94.7 a year ago, and the acreage about the same as in 1903. The condition of oats was placed at 90.1 per cent, against 93.6 a year ago, and the yield at 900,000,000 bushels, an increase of 75,000,000 bushels over last year. The trade looked upon the figures as bearish, and wheat and corn declined sharply.

On Pittsburgh stock exchange trading remained dull, but the tone of the market was firmer and prices closed at the best. National Fire Proofing common was the strongest stock and advanced to 8, closing at 7⅞ bid for 1,000 shares. The preferred rallied to 27½. Westinghouse Air Brake sold at 127 and latter advanced to 127½ bid on the announcement that the regular dividends of 2½ per cent regular and 2½ per cent extra had been declared for the past quarter. Westinghouse Electric rallied to 77¾, and closed at 77½ bid. Pittsburgh Coal preferred was firmer at 54⅝@55. Steel preferred rallied to 54⅝, but the other steel stocks were dull and nominally unchanged. There were no sales at the regular bank call and no dealings in bonds.

FEATURES OF THE DAY.

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank exchanges decreased $3,173,000 compared with same day last year.

Total deposits of Pittsburgh's state banks and trust companies foot up $153,745,912.

This is an increase of over $16,000,000 since last November.

Westinghouse Airbrake declared regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent and 2½ per cent extra.

Airbrake, Electric and Steel preferred also higher.

IN WALL STREET.

Professional traders are inclined to be bullish for a turn.

Stock market more active and prices advanced fractionally.

The sales included 267,100 shares stock and $2,335,000 bonds.

Reading common the strongest of the railroads, advancing to 46¾.

Chicago Great Western continued weak and declined to a new low point.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

An abstract of the reports of the state banks and trust companies of Pittsburgh shows that at the close of business May 31, 1904, the total deposits foot up $153,745,912, an increase of $16,186,366 as compared with the reports made November 17 last, and an increase of $11,054,224 as compared with the statements made May 3 last. In the subjoined figures it will be interesting to note that the deposits are almost equally divided between the two classes of institutions, the state banks reporting $77,121,553 and the trust companies $76,624,359. Here are the seven banks contribute the bulk of the deposits of the state banks. Another interesting feature is that as compared with a year ago there has been a net increase of $746,827 in deposits of the banks, while there has been an increase of $11,203,851 in the deposits of trust companies for the year. One of the most striking changes, however, relates to the employment of funds. Compared with one year ago, there has been a decrease in the loans of the combined institutions of $4,108,737, while within the same period investment securities have increased $26,670,980. The decrease in loans is almost evenly divided between the banks and trust companies, but the increase in investment securities is almost exclusively with the trust companies, amounting to no less than $26,000,000. The increase in capital and surplus for the year (the surplus largely representing premium on new stock) approximated $19,000,000. The inference to be drawn from these figures is that the banks and trust companies who received the proceeds of new stock issues during the year were unable to employ the same in loans to customers, and were compelled to buy investment securities. The decrease in loans fully confirms the reports of the falling off in the demand from general business and the liquidation of stocks carried by brokers. The following compilations were made by Mr. R. J. Stoney, Jr., the local expert in banking statistics:

There was no explanation for the sudden revival of demand for National Fire Proofing common, which advanced to 8. At the close Sproul & Co. were bidding 7⅞ for all or any part of 1,000 shares. The preferred stock was also firmer, advancing to 27½. It was suggested that possibly traders here were adopting the tactics of Wall street and trying to instill some life into the market by bidding up low-priced stocks.

All doubt on the Westinghouse Airbrake dividend matter was removed yesterday, when the directors declared 2½ per cent for the quarter and 2½ per cent extra. The dividends are the same as declared for the April quarter. The stock sold at 127 but after the announcement of the dividends advanced to 127½ bid.

Westinghouse Electric rallied to 77¾ on sales footing up only 170 shares, and closed at 77½ bid, 78 asked.

Crucible Steel common was a shade firmer at 4⅝, while the preferred remained dull and unchanged at 35½. United States Steel common rallied to 9⅛ and the preferred to 54⅝.

Pleasant Valley Traction sold at 27½, an advance of ¼, and a small lot of Birmingham Traction was offered at 50, the first public quotation for weeks.

Manufacturers Light & Heat was unchanged at 29¾. A gentleman familiar with field operations stated that the recent oil strikes by the company had increased its production to a point where the revenue from oil alone would pay the ordinary operating expenses of the entire plant.

Said a local banker yesterday: "There is a good deal of talk just now about banks being unable to pay current interest rates for deposits, but I know of an instance of a trust company in Allegheny county which this week obtained a public deposit by bidding 4¼ per cent interest, and the account is subject to check. The average daily balance does not exceed four figures, and the rate paid is just double that paid for the same account last year. How an institution can afford to pay such a rate for a deposit from which profit of the account is more than some of us old-fogy bankers have been able to figure out."

The Interborough Rapid Transit Company of New York yesterday declared an initial dividend of 2 per cent, payable July 1.

The Western Union directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent, payable July 15 to stock of record June 20.

In New York yesterday United States 2s and the old 4s advanced ¼, and the new 4s declined ⅛ per cent on call.

The cheerful reports from the anthracite trade made no new contrast with unfavorable general conditions, but they were given more consideration. In fact, the sartngth in the coalers was the backbone to the whole market. Official reports place the output of anthracite for May at 5,285,079 tons, an increase of 128,880 tons over the very favorable business of May last year.

Some attention was paid to a story that a plan for the settlement out of court of the Hill-Harriman dispute over the distribution of Northern Securities shares was under discussion, although this story was officially denied.

The softness of the London discount market, which yielded to below 2 per cent for open market discounts, gave ground for an expectation that the Bank of England would reduce its minimum rate of discount today below 3 per cent. This would tend to avert any movement of gold to New York from London and would indicate that the supply of capital has reached repletion at London as well as Paris.

The rise in National Lead was on rumors often revived of a combination in the trade.

The Western Union's statement of a decrease of $164,000 in net earnings for the June quarter was studied with interest, although the current month's earnings are estimated. The decline of 7 per cent in the earnings indicated, compared with the corresponding quarter of last year, is regarded as throwing light on the relative volume of general business activity.

Discussing the recent change in Pennsylvania railroad officials and its probable significance in the future, the Philadelphia News Bureau says: The appointment of Henry Tatnall to the treasurership and sixth vice presidency of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company continues to be discussed in the street. The question is, Whether or Whether Mr. Tatnall's new position is a promotion, whether the salary and opportunities for making money are greater, and whether he has not sacrificed some of his executive freedom, are points discussed. One trust company treasurer, on being told that Mr. Tatnall declined the treasurership when it was first offered him without a vice presidency, remarked that he would rather have the presidency of a big national bank, like the Franklin National bank, Philadelphia, the presidency of which Mr. Tatnall has just vacated, than Mr. Tatnall's two positions in the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Somewhat in line with this view may be quoted the remark of a Pennsylvania railroad officer when discussing the vice presidency offer to Mr. Tatnall: "Tatnall will not feel himself free to get a national bank president to take our treasurership with nothing else." It should not be overlooked, however, that Mr. Tatnall's acceptance of the treasurership and sixth vice presidency of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company means, in proper sequence, his appointment to official positions on many of the Pennsylvania's controlled lines. Already he has succeeded Mr. Smith as treasurer of the Allegheny Valley, of the Western New York & Pennsylvania, and of the West Jersey & Seashore. On the other hand, it is safe to say that Mr. Tatnall will not feel himself free to undertake outside matters, similar to, for instance, to the Asphalt receivership, his fees in which amounted to some $50,000. While the change in the treasurership most directly affects Mr. Tatnall, it is a matter of interest in the presidency of his bank (Mr. J. R. McAllister), his appointment is perhaps the most palpable step yet taken toward ultimately putting Vice President Rea into the presidency of the Pennsylvania railroad. It has long been accepted that Mr. Rea is Mr. Cassatt's heir-apparent in Pennsylvania railroad matters, and the nature of the latter's relations to the president and other vice presidents, makes it less clear who, other than Mr. Rea is, in the proper time, to succeed to the Penney presidency.

STRUCTURAL IS IN MOST DEMAND

Other Lines of Iron and Steel Are Very Inactive With Few Exceptions.

GENERAL NEWS OF THE MARKET

Structural material, which is now in its best season, is the most active of the various lines of finished iron and steel. A number of orders some of them for large quantities, are being placed, and the season promises to be a very fair one in this line.

The market is unusually quiet in other lines. There is, in fact, practically no market in several finished products and the demand for pig iron and billets reflects this condition. The valley furnaces are going out of blast and by the end of this month from one-third to one-half of the merchant capacity will not be producing.

The situation does not cause alarm among the manufacturers however. "It is the natural outcome of the high-pressure conditions of the early part of this decade," said one of the leading steel men of Pittsburgh yesterday. "It did not believe that conditions are abnormal when this is considered. At present there is a steady run of business on a much smaller scale than before. Orders for material are coming now only when a buyer of the finished product is assured and our sales have lost all speculative aspect.

"Until after the presidential election I do not look for the market to take on great activity. There will be the run of business which is demanded to supply the ordinary needs. There will not be the sales that mark chance dealings."

A discount of one point is announced on merchant pipe in carload lots to consumers on all sizes up to and including 12-inch. For the seven to 12-inch sizes the price remains unchanged.

The Hardware Market.

Orders for hardware continue to arrive in fairly good volume, the demand for certain lines of goods being very large. This demand is particularly on season lines. Nails and wire move out in good quantities, some of the mills still reporting their inability to keep up with orders. Saws, planes and varnishes, brushes, oils, turpentine and other goods in painters' supplies' lines are moving out freely, the backward season having crowded considerable outside work into a very short space of time. The window glass trade is placing its orders in a fairly free manner, looking towards a shutdown of factories, which seems likely to come at the end of this week, leaving stocks to rather heavy condition, owing to insufficient sizes. It seems probable that there will be a great scramble for certain sizes of glass before the factories start up again. A continued good business is noted in bicycle goods, bicycles and supplies being in demand. One of the best trade has been seen in years. Prices in a general way are very firm, and seem likely to continue so.

PIG IRON PRODUCTION MATERIALLY DECLINED

Accumulation of Stock During the Month of May Reached $100,000 Tons.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The Iron Age will tomorrow say:

From the statistical returns it looks as though the consumption of pig iron had declined very materially since March, while expanding production has not been checked until the last month. Our monthly report shows that the output for May was 1,533,500 tons of anthracite and coke pig iron, as compared with 1,554,500 tons in April. But the rate of output, which had reached 368,000 tons a week on May 1, has dropped back to 336,000 tons on June 1.

The corrective was therefore quickly and automatically applied, but in the meantime stocks which were declining steadily during the first quarter of the year have increased sharply increased during May, there having been an accumulation of 100,000 tons during that month alone. Two-thirds of this addition to the stock must be credited to the central west and to the northwest.

This indicates quite a shrinkage in the demand, which even the cutting down in the rate of production may not counterbalance. It must be observed, however, that already there has been a further restriction in the output by the blowing out of additional furnaces since the opening of the month.

A clearer view of the situation is obtained when we aggregate from the totals the figures which relate to the furnaces owned and operated by the steel companies, which last month made 972,536 tons out of a total of 1,533,500 tons. In this connection it should be noted that the merchant furnaces we need only take into account the changes in the stock on hand to obtain a pretty fair estimate of the monthly consumption of merchant iron. This shows the following figures:

Consumption of merchant pig iron—

	Gross tons.
January	441,264
February	366,076
March	626,967
April	581,314
May	459,163

These figures, of course, exaggerate the fluctuations considerably, but no account of the changes in the amount of iron carried by the consumers and in transit. Still, the showing is a distinctly unfavorable one, and goes far toward explaining the attitude of both buyers and sellers during the past few weeks.

It is not surprising that the pig iron markets have weakened further, and Birmingham is now on the basis of $9 for No. 2 foundry, with one transaction involving 12,000 tons closed this week. It is interesting to note that some export business in southern basic pig has been done lately. Valley furnaces are barely getting $12 for No. 2 foundry and Bessemer pig, and one exceptionally low sale of low phosphorous pig iron has been made in Eastern Pennsylvania.

Pool prices on steel billets are more and more out of line with present conditions, compared with those prevailing when the schedule was adopted.

The demand is still light in the heavier branches of the finished trade. Some fairly large orders for steel cars have brought some very welcome tonnage to the plate mills, who are eager for work and treat pool prices accordingly. In the structural trade some of the long-delayed Baltimore business has been coming in, so that the expectations of large orders from that quarter are revived. The bar trade is very disappointing, and cutting is going on notably in the west.

MORE NEW CROP FRUIT IS NOW ARRIVING HERE

Blackberries and dewberries arrived yesterday for the first time this season. The stock is from North Carolina and is of better quality than usual for the first of the crop. Maryland cherries also came in yesterday, but not in large quantities. The arrival of California cherries was rather heavy and none of the stock sold above $1 50 the 10-pound boxes. Oranges and lemons continue in satisfactory demand for this season of year. The arrival of strawberries was less than one-half the amount that came in Tuesday. Yesterday's stock was not very good. One sale of old potatoes was reported at $1 50 a bushel, but quotations are not changed. Butter and eggs continue steady and cheese is moving freely, with considerable demand.

A healthy flour market, firm sugar and steady coffee, with cereals in fair request and the supply of canned goods not too great, is about all that can be said of the grocery situation now. Business holds out first rate, say the jobbers. Spring chickens are quoted lower and there are wanted at that. Omaha's are also reduced; so are frogs and turtles. Poultry is now showing better and will continue brighter as the spring stocks get cheaper. Both hay and oats are looking up; one car of No. 1 timothy offered yesterday at $15, with $14 25 bid. A car of No. 3 oats sold at 46½c.

There is little good straw coming in; it is offering at about $9; one car of no-grade straw sold yesterday at $8. Receipts of hay and grain were lighter yesterday than for any one day in months. The effect will be firmer markets, dealers being given a good chance now to clean up old stock.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 8 cars hay, 1 car oats and straw; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 1 car hay; Baltimore & Ohio, 8 cars hay, 1 car oats.

Dealers advance of 5 cents a bushel on oats and $3 a ton on hay and millfeed from warehouses in less than carload lots.

An advance of 10@15c in hog prices caused a strong tone in provisions early in the day, but during the latter part of the session the initial gain was all lost on profit-taking. Weakness of corn was partly responsible for the late selling. At the close September pork was down 12½c at $12 20. September lard was off 2½c at $6 77½. Ribs closed 5@7½c lower at $7 07½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 28 cars; corn, 304 cars; oats, 62 cars; hogs, 32,000 head.

TOO MUCH HEAT IN ICE COMPANY

Court Asked to Appoint a Master to Conduct the Election of Directors.

DECISION ON A PARTY WALL

Before Judge Shafer yesterday the equity suit of John J. Drew against the Colonial Ice Company and others, to prevent a stockholder's meeting on June 9, was heard, but the case was put down on the regular list. Attorney Frank R. Stoner for the defendants stating the meeting had been called off. The bill alleges the organization of the company is irregular and the court is asked to determine who are the stockholders and to appoint a master to conduct the meeting to elect a board of directors. The company purchased the Duquesne Ice Company, which was the object of considerable litigation. Attorney S. S. Robertson filed the bill.

L. F. Demmler and a number of others entered an equity suit in common pleas court No. 2 yesterday against T. M. and W. B. Porter, The Farmers' Deposit National bank and the Reliance Life Insurance Company to recover alleged overpayments on subscriptions to stock of the insurance company. The suit was entered by the law firm of Seymour & Patterson. The plaintiffs named are L. F. E. W., T. C. E., William A. and A. J. Demmler, T. M. Sankey, O. C. Seible, Adam Wilson, William F. Siffel, J. S. Vance, J. A. Muller, A. S. List, John M. Birch, George Wise, W. A. Wilson, Joseph Speidel, T. E. Lewis, Adolph Schmidt, H. V. McCullough, John N. Dersam, James E. White, A. M. Lally, H. C. Franzheim and John C. Brugdon.

The bill in equity filed by James McCarren against G. O. O'Brien and others, to prevent them from erecting a party wall on property in Penn avenue has been dismissed by Judge Frazer. In his opinion Judge Frazer says, as the law stands, every person who becomes the owner of a lot in a city of the second class, does so with the understanding that his lot is subject to the right of the adjoining holder to erect a party wall. This right is not exhausted by the erection of such a wall, but either owner may tear down an existing wall and erect a wider and stronger one within reasonable bounds. The right of the plaintiff to sue for special damages is not affected by this decision.

Among the true bills returned by the grand jury yesterday was one charging Harry and Louis Americus with murder. They are alleged to have thrown a brick which caused the death of Otto E. Vail on April 11. A true bill was returned against David Ross, colored, holding him as an accessory after the fact to murder in connection with the same case. Vail, who was only 19 years old, was employed as a driver for a Crawford street laundry. The Americus boys also drove a wagon. The three are said to have quarreled before the day of the alleged murder. On this day a fight began at 7:30 o'clock in the afternoon, in which bricks were thrown. Vail was struck on the head and taken to the Mercy hospital, where he died two hours later from a fractured skull. The Americus brothers are in jail, bail having been refused at the coroner's hearing.

The other true bills returned are as follows: Burglary, John Witts, Bert Aspinwall (8), Alfred Carson (6), Floyd McKinley, James Ryan, Charley Weigel; robbery, W. J. Logan; felonious assault and battery, Clyde Allen, Jr., Hunter, Charles D. Kipps, Joe Buchmach, Thomas Gilliotti; aggravated assault and battery, Alfred Frocella, John Donahue; assault and battery, Ida Eaton, George Karness, John Doncaster, Richard Gant, Wandeslauf Schultz, John Klawan; larceny, Joseph F. Blattner, Edgar Robinson, John Trehane, Foster Hand; embezzlement, George Papas (2); keeping a gambling house, Thomas Flanagan (2); malicious mischief, Edward Seattley; misdemeanor, William Tramp, John Trehane.

MATHEUS APPEALS.

Asks State Supreme Court to Pass on he Judges' Salary Act.

HARRISBURG, PA., June 8.—(Special.)—State Treasurer Mathues has taken an appeal to the supreme court in the "judges' salary" case from the decision of Judge Bell, of Blair county, and Judge Von Moschzisker, of Philadelphia, that the act of 1903 is constitutional and that all judges in the state are entitled to the added pay.

Mathues was made a party to the proceedings in this matter after ex-State Treasurer Harris retired from office one month ago, and he refused to appeal. The case, he has retained Lyman D. Gilbert of this city, as private counsel, who was also attorney for Harris, and it was he who took the appeal for Mathues.

The case has been placed on the trial list for argument in this city next May, but Attorney General Carson said this evening that when the court reconvenes next October at Pittsburgh he would make a motion to advance the case and ask that it be heard immediately. There is also pending in the supreme court an appeal by James M. W. Newlin of Philadelphia, from the decision of Judges Wells and Kunkel in the Dauphin county court in his equity suit to stop payment by the state officers of the increased salaries to those judges in commission prior to the approval of the salary act.

GAELIC SOCIETY PROGRAM.

Feast Celebration by the O'Growneys Is Attended by Big Audience.

In celebration of the feast of St. Colmille, the O'Growney Gaelic society of Pittsburgh gave an entertainment at Lyceum hall, Washington street, last evening. The program consisted of an open address by John McCarthy, the president; a Gaelic song by Patrick O'Regan; song, "Come Back to Erin", by Miss McCarthy; a Gaelic address by Michael O'Mealy; a recitation by John Gannon; a song by Miss Maria Malia; address, "St. Colmcille," by the Rev. Price; a song "A Handful of Earth," by Miss Agnes McIntyre; an address, "The Gaelic Movement," by Bernard Gillan; a song, "Three Leaves of Shamrock," by Patrick Murphy, and a song by Thomas J. Madigan.

Every effort is being made primarily for the revival of the Irish language. The people were present at the meeting, which was the first of the kind by the local organization.

Rates to World's Fair Will Not Be Reduced by Wabash

When the Wabash finally establishes service into Pittsburgh it will likely develop that there is more truth than fiction in the many reports of a settlement between the Goulds and the Pennsylvania interests. The story that the Pennsylvania had purchased the Pittsburgh end of the Wabash is absurd, so those who know say, but that conferences have been held looking toward a settlement of the fierce competition there is little doubt. The nature of the agreement, of course, is not known, but it is hinted that the Wabash will not be the free lance agent, in the way of rates, as the public generally anticipates.

In fact it is said that the Wabash, instead of offering ridiculously low passenger rates out of here to all points in the west, particularly St. Louis, will abide by the agreement made between the other Pittsburgh lines. It will be recalled that several weeks ago the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and Wabash met here to settle world's fair rates. There was a general compromise, but the impression was left that the Wabash would not be a party to the agreement. It is now understood that the Wabash will be a party. This will set at rest many imaginary reports as to rate cutting. Or, as an official of another line recently expressed it: "People will find that they will not be able to ride to St. Louis and back over the Wabash for a dime with a hole in it. Many persons have the impression that the regular tariffs will not be maintained and that they will be able to accomplish all sorts of impossible things when the Wabash gets to town."

Large Order for Signals.

The Union Switch and Signal Company of Swissvale, Pa., has received an order from the Southern railway for switching and signaling apparatus to the amount of $75,000. The order includes nine complete interlocking plants, consisting of 174 mechanical working levers, which will be installed on the company's line between Alexandria and Manassas. It will be installed by the construction corps of the Union Switch and Signal Company in charge of L. D. Cushing, engineer of the company. This is said to be the largest single contract for signals and switches ever placed by a southern line.

B. & O. Has a Good Team.

The freight traffic employes of the Baltimore & Ohio at Pittsburgh have organized what they believe will be an invincible baseball team. A month ago a nine was formed with transportation and traffic men, but now both departments have their own team. The traffic men for the next few weeks will play as follows: June 11, the American Steel and Wire Company employes at Neville island; June 18, the Pittsburgh Reduction employes at Cheswick Rocks; June 25, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie auditor's office employes at Neville island; July 2, the Baltimore & Ohio employes at Wheeling, and July 16, the Baltimore & Ohio transportation team at Pittsburgh. The team from the auditor's office of the Lake Erie is regarded as one of the strongest in the district. On Saturday, it will play the Lake Shore men of Cleveland in that city, and the third of a series of three games between those two nines will be pulled off in Youngstown. The first game was played here last Saturday and resulted in the defeat of the Lake Shore men. The lineup of the Baltimore & Ohio traffic team is: E. M. Whan, pitcher; G. Adam Miller and G. W. Dudderar, catchers; T. E. Conlen, first base; F. E. Guy (manager), second base; John H. Crosby, shortstop; R. P. Kennedy, third base; W. H. Baggs, left field; C. H. Hoffman, middle field, and H. C. Cochran, right field.

Railroad Notes.

The Erie is offering a prize of $100 for a suitable name for a world's fair train.

Oscar G. Murray, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, with a party of officials, is expected here today.

One of the Pennsylvania railroad trains recently made the run from Philadelphia to Atlantic City, 58.3 miles, in 56 minutes.

Many freight officials from Pittsburgh are in Chicago attending a meeting of the Central Freight association. The meeting, which was begun yesterday, will likely last three days.

NEW ENGLAND FIREMEN TO AID FREIGHT HANDLERS

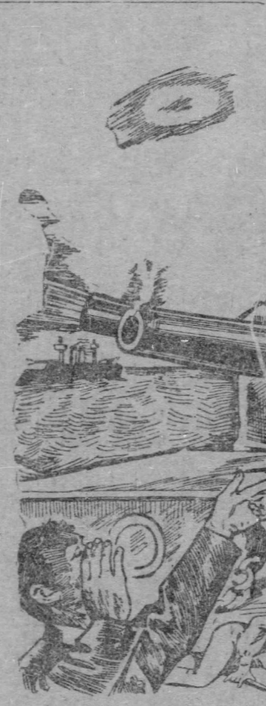
BOSTON, June 8.—A general strike of the marine firemen has been declared and all the firemen employed on steamships in this harbor who belong to the union are expected to quit work within the next three days. In the jurisdiction of the Boston union are Portland, Eastport and other places along the New England coast. The strike was ordered in sympathy with the New York freight handlers.

Stabbed to Death by Sister-in-Law.

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—Mary Richardson, a young married woman, was today stabbed through the heart by May Richardson, her sister-in-law, during a quarrel. The women met in a real estate office and after a few words May Richardson drew a penknife and drove the blade into the other woman's heart. Jealousy was the cause.

Soldiers Elect New Officers.

Company I, Eighteenth regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania, elected a full complement of commissioned officers Tuesday night, as follows: Dr. E. E. P. Sleppy, captain; Robert J. Woodsides, first lieutenant, James I. Brennan, second lieutenant.



Attack On Russian Cruiser.

THE ENEMY TAKES THEM BY SURPRISE.

THE wily Japanese have shown considerable skill in enticing the Russians out from their secure harbors and then suddenly falling upon them in overpowering numbers. It is then "survive or perish"—"sink or swim" for the Russian cruiser, and the chances are against her getting back to her safe harbor again, at least without a weakened body. Strange as it may seem, this is an analogous case to what happens very often to the human body in the spring or fall of the year. We are very often enjoying the first signs of spring weather—watching nature take on new life—when unexpectedly we are surprised by the attack of fever, grippe, or cold. No one knows just why it is, but it is nevertheless true, that our bodies are in a weakened condition at this time of year, and the germs of disease are not thrown off by our blood as they are in ordinary times; therefore, they have a chance to thrive and grow. It is also probable that during the winter, when we have had little chance for sunlight, healthful exercise in outdoor air and few green vegetables for diet, that poisons have accumulated in the system—our blood in disorder—leaves our body weak to resist the attack of these little "beasts"—the microbes of disease.

Pluck and stamina are largely a question of good health. It only takes one knock-down blow to finish a man with a headache. It only takes a small setback to disconcert a nervous and shaky man. A bilious, headachy man goes into bankruptcy at the first embarrassment. A nervous man who does not sleep at night and gets up shaky in the morning gives up the battle of business at the first discouragement. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best of all health-makers and health-keepers. It makes pure, rich blood. It forces out all impurities and disease germs. It does not make any difference what the disease may be called, so long as it has its inception in improper or insufficient nourishment—this great medicine will cure it. It may be called dyspepsia, kidney disease, "liver complaint," skin or blood disease, or nervous prostration—all these have the same starting point. The "Golden Medical Discovery" reaches that point. It will cure these diseases absolutely. None of them can retain their hold on the system when the arteries are filled with rich, pure blood.

The man who suffers from bronchitis, weak lungs, spitting of blood or any disease of the air-passages which, if neglected leads up to consumption, may take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery with almost absolute assurance of recovery. It soothes and heals the delicate and sensitive tissues of the air-passages and lungs, checks the cough, facilitates expectoration, drives out all impurities and disease germs from the tainted blood and builds new and healthy tissues.

All serious sickness is attended with wasting of the body, and this with lack of appetite and assimilative power.

Consumption, for example, is a wasting disease. Its course is marked by emaciation. The common treatment of consumption is by food fats.

But this treatment fails to recognize the fact that all food must be digested; that you can't digest and assimilate any kind of food if the stomach is broken down and these oils being foods cannot be digested and assimilated by the weak stomach. The oils are fed in an attempt to bring the character of the food down to the level of a weak stomach. Dr. Pierce's theory is that you must bring the weak stomach up to the level of strong food. That is the only way in which the stomach can furnish the blood supply for the body, adequate in its quantity and in its vital elements to the needs of the whole body and all its parts.

This is the work perfectly performed by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It acts upon the weak stomach so that it regains strength.

"After doctoring for eight months for inflammation of the lungs, and after I had been virtually given up and believed there was no hope of recovery, I was cured of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Sarah Garfield of No. 1129 South Linden Street, Indianapolis, Indiana, Treasurer Indianapolis Floral Society. "I used it and found it simply a wonderful remedy. The soreness was gradually relieved, my general health was greatly improved, and I felt I was on the fair road to recovery. My appetite increased and I began to take on flesh and stop coughing so hard, enabling me to get a good night's rest—a luxury I had not known for months. Within four months I was completely restored, strong, well, and happy to think I had my health once more. I appreciated it as I never had done before, and give all the credit to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

"A year ago I was troubled with dyspepsia; thought at the time that I had heart trouble and was expecting to die at almost any minute," writes Mrs. Lois Hooper, of Red Bluff, Mont. "I made up my mind I would write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, which I did, and received a prompt reply advising me to take his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took six bottles, and can truthfully say that I have neither heart trouble nor dyspepsia now. I would advise all who are suffering from either trouble to write to Dr. Pierce at once."

We guarantee that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery does not contain alcohol, opium, or any harmful drug. It is a pure compound of medicinal plants scientifically combined. Persons making false statements concerning its ingredients will be prosecuted.

MATADOR MURDERED.

Spanish Bull-Fighter Killed by Rival in Quarrel at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—Don Manuel Cerevera, a Spaniard, who on last Sunday, before an audience which had gathered in a pavilion near the fair grounds to see a bull fight, was introduced as the favorite matador of the king of Spain, was shot through the heart and instantly killed today by Carleton Bass, known as "The American matador." Bass and five other bull-fighters who witnessed the shooting were arrested.

The shooting resulted from a quarrel regarding the fiasco of Sunday, when the authorities stopped the bull fight and the angry crowd burned the arena structure. Cerevera's body was taken to the morgue.

SPANISH TO PARTICIPATE.

Will Help the Americans at Manila Celebrate the Fourth of July.

MANILA, June 8.—The Casino Espanol, the Spanish club of Manila, has decided to participate in the forthcoming Fourth of July celebration here.

The casino decided on this course because of the honors paid by the American army and navy to the dead Spanish soldiers and sailors buried at Manila and Baler. At the latter place, in North Luzon, a few Spanish soldiers, during the native insurrection against Spain, defended themselves most heroically against a large force of insurgents.
